Herter Challenges France On Military Integration

Rockefeller Arrives For Wisconsin Tour

Crowd of 250 Persons on Hand to Greet Man Who May Enter Presidential Race

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison —Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, the

Green Bay Schedule

Green Bay —A capacity audience of nearly 200 is expected to hear Gov. Rockefeller at a Green Bay breakfast meeting Wednesday at the Terrace room of the H. C. Prange company.

Other Meetings After two hours of swiftly-paced handshaking, coffee drinking and vigorous smiling, he flew to Milwaukee for other meetings.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller received warm welcomes from Minnesota and Wisconsin residents as he visited the states as part of his mid-west tour to make a check of Republican strongholds. Rockefeller arrived in Madison this morning. He will leave Madison for Milwaukee later today, fly to Green Bay Tuesday morning and to Racine late Tuesday.

Tells Foreign Ministers NATO Must Keep Its Forces Under Unified Command

Paris —AP— In a direct challenge to France, U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today told the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance that NATO must continue to integrate its military forces under one command.

Castro Witness At Cuban Trial

Havana —AP— Fidel Castro's military prosecutor demanded the death penalty for Major Hubert Matos today after Castro appeared as the star witness for the prosecution and delivered a 7-hour harangue in defense of his revolutionary regime.

More Important Speaking of the concept of integrated defense, Herter said that it was on this basis that the United States makes its contribution to NATO. He said the idea of integrated defense is more important than ever.

De Gaulle has flatly rejected this concept in favor of nations retaining control of their own forces. However, he is understood to have given assurance that, at this time, he will withdraw no more French forces from NATO.

Huge Unmanned Balloon Drifts Out of Contact

Rapid City, S.D. —AP— A 500-foot high unmanned plastic balloon, called the world's largest by its launchers, was believed drifting over eastern Oklahoma today, out of radio-beacon contact with tracking crews because of bad flying weather.

Ed Lewis, head of a launching team from Winzen Research Inc., Minneapolis, makers of the gigantic plastic bag, said it was impossible to pin point the likely landing spot until beacon contact is restored.

Rockefeller Gives Farm Policy Talk

Urges That 60 Million Acres Be Taken Out of Agricultural Cultivation to Help Farmers

Minneapolis — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller headed into Wisconsin today after urging, in a major speech on farm policy, that 60 million acres of land be taken out of agricultural cultivation.

"The chief problem of the low-income farmers," he said, "is poverty."

Rockefeller is making a swing through the middle west. He says the purpose is to "register impressions" which will help him decide whether to try for the Republican nomination for president in 1960. In the first three days of the trip, he visited Indiana, Missouri, and Minnesota — in all of which Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is considered to have the support of most Republican leaders for the nomination.

The governor chose Minneapolis as the spot to deliver his views on the way to solve the farm problem.

"Farmers Dissatisfied," he said. "The taxpayer-

Rival Forces in Packing Strife To Negotiate

Wilson Conferences Paralleled by Collision in Court

Albert Lea, Minn. — Rival forces in the volatile Wilson and Company packing-house dispute headed today for a fresh start at the conference table but a new collision in court.

The next scheduled encounter comes Wednesday in U.S. district court in Minneapolis where the state of Minnesota will try to block a company move aimed at re-opening Wilson's plant here.

The plant and community have been under martial law since Friday when Gov. Orville Freeman ordered national guard units onto the scene as a result of two days of picket line violence involving strikers and non-union workers hired to replace them.

Meeting Scheduled

But balancing the court clash is Thursday's scheduled resumption of talks between management and union negotiators. The mediation session in Chicago will be their first meeting since negotiations were broken off Oct. 29 in a disagreement over work schedules.

The meeting was scheduled by the U.S. mediation and conciliation service after the striking United Packinghouse Workers of America agreed to terms demanded by the company.

Packinghouse leaders pledged they will not foment any violations of future contracts and specifically will refrain from encouraging slowdowns, work suspensions, quickie strikes and refusal to work scheduled hours.

Issue Injunction

If a court rules that the union has reneged on these promises, the UPWA said, "an injunction can be issued against its officers, agents or members."

While company, union and state's attorneys wrangle over the next moves, limited production continues at the plant here. Under a company-union agreement, some 300 non-union workers are being allowed to handle partly processed meat that otherwise would be spoiled. With national guardsmen standing

President Eisenhower Bends over for a closer look at a painting presented him by Shah Mohammed Rezi Pahlevi, kneeling, during Ike's visit to Tehran Monday. The painting of the president was done by an Iranian artist. Speaking of the gifts received during his current good-will tour, Ike told the Shah, "When I get out of office I am going to put them in a White House museum with a plaque on each saying who they are from."

Award to Dog With Two Hearts

New York — Ruff, a friendly dog of uncertain ancestry, has received "the canine version of the Nobel prize."

Ruff has two hearts — the one he was born with and the radio-powered one given him by medical researchers.

Monday, two little girls — both heart patients — placed a silver collar around Ruff's neck proclaiming him "Research Dog of the Year." It was awarded by the National Society for Medical Research, which called it "the canine version of the Nobel prize."

Ruff, a former resident of a city pound, has an extra heart created from part of his diaphragm. It functions as a muscular booster through activation from a tiny radio transmitter that picks up the pulse of Ruff's natural heart. The transmitter is outside his body.

The second heart reduces the work load on his natural heart by about 25 per cent. Ruff showed no ill effects from his operation.

The lives of the little girls, Laurie Ann Cloke, 4, and Elizabeth De Pasqua, 10, were saved recently by heart operations made possible through experimentation with animals.

Missile Launched by British Explodes

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. — A Thor intermediate range missile blew up over the Pacific Monday a few minutes after launching by a British crew.

It was the second of 10 Thors fired by a Royal air force crew to mis-fire. The first was destroyed by a safety officer when it went off course.

Star Route Carriers Use Various Means to Deliver Christmas Mails

Horses, Boats, Toboggans, Skis, Even A Dogsled Employed in Remote Areas

BY GEOFFREY GOULD

Washington — The mail will go through this Christmas as always, but in a few cases it will take horses, boats, toboggans, skis and even a dogsled to do it.

That's the way it still has to be done in some of the remote nooks and crannies of the 50 states. The post office conceded that today, perhaps a little proudly, after looking over the locomotion methods of some of its 10,000 "star" route carriers.

The star route carriers transport mail under private contract with the post office. Most of them use trucks, but sometimes they have to use ingenuity to get themselves from one place to another.

Carrier Eulice H. Thomas, for instance, has a route between Cristfield, Md. and Tanger Island, Va., in Chesapeake bay. Obviously a truck won't do. He uses a small boat. So does George Grosvenor of Leland, Mich., who delivers to two northern Lake Michigan islands from the mainland.

Horse is Handy

A horse is still the handiest way to get from Sumner to Sod, W. Va. Daner F. Brogan, as he has for many a year, will employ the hayburning method of transportation over the rough, roadless route.

But another West Virginia star router, J. B. Vaughan, finally gave up his horse after 17 years. He now drives a truck between Chloe and Elmira.

The weather plays a vital role in determining the delivery method.

If snows are deep this year between Elko, Nev., and the Bob Prunty ranch, carrier Claude E. Gerber will drop the Christmas mail from a small plane.

Oscar Evans regularly uses a horse-drawn toboggan to speed the mail between Boulder, Wyo., and Midland ranch.

Dogsled Route

In Alaska Chester Noon, who presides over the last dogsled route in these United States, his 10 huskies carry the mail on St. Lawrence Island in the Bering sea. In summer months he employs a skin-covered boat known in that region as an Umiak.

Walter M. Harbour often uses skis to get over a difficult part of his 28-mile route between Nevada City, Calif., and Graniteville.

The star route carriers have played their vigorous, backwoods role for the post office for more than a century. Their name stems from early days, when their contracts always provided for "celerity, certainty and security" of the mails.

Postal clerks got tired of writing these three words over and over, and took to substituting three asterisks or stars.

It wasn't long before they were called star routes, as they are to this day.

Elderly Couple Left In Mountain Cabin

Santa Cruz, Calif. — An elderly couple, left bound and gagged in a chilly mountain cabin by a kidnap gang that may have included an escaped convict, worked their way free after 12 hours Monday and then hiked to safety.

Gary Smith, a sheriff's deputy, said a general description given by Mrs. Clara A. Hoeller, 78, fitted Jimmie Kendrick, 29, who escaped from San Quentin prison Dec. 7.

The other victim was Peter Trimborn, 74, a resident at a guest home owned at nearby San Jose by Mr. Hoeller.

Both were treated for shock and rope burns and Mrs. Hoeller had been forced at gunpoint to cash checks for $200.

Mrs. Hoeller and Trimborn were kidnaped by two men and a girl Sunday as they stopped to inspect Mrs. Hoeller's cabin in Lockhart Gulch, 14 miles north of Santa Cruz in the Coast Range mountains.

They were jumped by the trio as they stopped to look at a car parked with a flat tire near the cabin.

One of the men and the girl guarded Trimborn at the cabin while the other man brought Mrs. Hoeller to Santa Cruz where he forced her to cash several checks. She said he held an automatic pistol on her.

After that the man took Mrs. Hoeller back to the cabin and she and Trimborn were bound and gagged. As a further precaution, the gang boarded shut the windows and before the couple could escape they had to force open a door.

Government Network Suggested by Rabbi

Washington — A religious leader today proposed a government TV and radio network, such as Britain's BBC, to give "creative competition" to commercial networks.

Rabbi Maurice N. Eisen-drath, president of the Union of American Hebrew congregations, said a government network would provide "educational and cultural programming freed from the blight of commercials and the trauma of Trendex ratings."

Eisen-drath's testimony was prepared for a hearing of the Federal Communications commission, which is trying to determine the extent of its authority to regulate the broadcasting industry. The hearings are an outgrowth of the quiz show scandals and current furor over payola.

Reports Say Rebels Crossing River to Join Paraguay Fight

Guerrillas Entering Against President Alfredo Stroessner

Posadas, Argentina — Residents here report hundreds of Paraguayan rebels are slipping across the Parana river to join the guerrilla campaign against the dictatorship of President Alfredo Stroessner in Paraguay.

Despite claims by the Paraguayan government that its frontiers have been sealed, Brazilian sources here put the number of new rebels in Paraguay at 1,000.

Rebel spokesmen said the uprising that began Saturday also involved about 1,000 men, but some of them have been captured. Paraguayan officials claim the revolt was snuffed out within hours.

Greek Papers Hail Visit of Eisenhower

Cited as Milestone in Relations of Two Countries

Athens — Most Greek newspapers today hailed President Eisenhower's visit as a milestone in relations between the United States and Greece.

Vima, which reflects the views of the opposition right-wing liberal party, said the Athenian throng's rousing welcome for the president was "a great political event."

The visit, said Vima, "will influence the trend of political life of Greeks for many years to come."

The pro-government Acropolis said:

No Other Precedent

"There is no other precedent in (Greek) history of such a warm and such a sincere expression of appreciation to any foreign head of government, either crowned or uncrowned, as was yesterday's welcome."

Ethnicos Kvrix, another pro-government newspaper, said the 23 hours of Eisenhower's visit would be "historic" for the hundreds of thousands of Greeks who had "physical contact" with the U.S. president. Eisenhower, it continued, "will emerge out of this reception stronger in daring and resolve for the continuation of his mission."

Avri, organ of the communist line Eda Party, carried an open letter to Eisenhower from the party president, John Passalides. He sought to explain why the usually anti-American party joined in the rousing welcome.

"There is certainly no undercurrent against the American people, whom Greeks love and respect," Passalides wrote, "but there is against the policy which has practically abolished our national independence and has helped the most reactionary forces in the country to gain office."

Broadway shows. Her first big splash was in David Belasco's "The Girl I Left Behind Me" followed by triumph after triumph here and the gay '90s appearing in abroad.

Edna Wallace Hopper, Gay 90s Star, Dies

New York — Edna Wallace Hopper, the toast of Broadway at the turn of the century and later a shrewd stock trader, is dead.

She died Monday of complications of pneumonia at her Manhattan home. She was at her Wall street desk only last Friday.

No one knew her age. Her youthful appearance belied her years. Estimates ranged from 85 to 99. She said the records of her birth were destroyed in the San Francisco earthquake early in this century.

Less than five feet tall and weighing only 85 pounds, Miss Hopper became the darling of the gay '90s appearing in abroad.

Preble Wants Voting Held

Citizens Committee Pleads for Ballot Test of Annexation

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — A town of Preble citizens committee will oppose any move by the town board to bring litigation against Green Bay's attempt to annex the entire town.

Tuesday, Dec. 15, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A4

Paul Neveau, the citizens' new law, and last week a president, said Green Bay's special legislative committee on urban growth problems said it would meet in Green Bay to study the effects of the annexation move. The law provides that a city can institute annexation proceedings by petitioning circuit court for a referendum of the area sought. The court order for a referendum could be stopped by a petition against annexation from 50 per cent of the registered voters or owners of more than half the property in the area in question. Green Bay's action would be the first application of the Character actor George E. Stone, long absent from the screen after a crippling auto accident and a siege of blindness, is up for the same role—Solomon Levy—in MGM's remake of Edna Ferber's "Cimarron" for which he won an academy award nomination 27 years ago.

Teleproducer Barnard Schubert shoots an hour-long version of one of Thorne Smith's "Topper" stories in April. He hopes it will become a regular TV series, as popular as the "Topper" movies.

David O. Selznick at long last is considering making a movie of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel, "Tender Is the Night." He's signed John Frankenheimer, the TV director, to direct it, and he's working on Montgomery Clift to star.

Type casting: Silent film stars Fay Wray and Neil Hamilton have been signed to portray film stars in "Who Killed Cock Robin?" an upcoming "77 Sunset Strip" drama.

Evelyn Rudie, 9-year-old actress recently in headlines when she flew to Washington to see Mrs. Eisenhower, will play the hell-raising daughter of an outlaw in a coming "Lawman" segment. It's not type-casting, says Warner Brothers.

Orson Welles will produce and direct a spectacular starring Marlene Dietrich for BBC-TV in London shortly, and then will return to Dublin to star as Flaxstaff in his own adaptation of Shakespeare's two "Henry IV" plays. Welles got his start with Dublin's Abbey Theater.

Mike Connolly, Hollywood columnist, reports Japanese manufacturers will retail portable TV sets in the United States next spring for $50.

American Performers Export Blues Music
New York — A company of 75 American performers has gone to Europe to take part in a production that will probably reach Broadway a year from now.

The venture is "Free and Easy," a saga of blues music upon which composed Harold Arlen has been engaged for five years with director Robert Breen.

Says Stanley Chase, producer of the tour: "The blues are one American export everyone appreciates in Europe, it's one they never get enough of, and it's one they can't possibly duplicate themselves."

ABC was a big letdown from the smartly paced bright program several weeks ago. For one thing, the fellow who writes sprightly conversation for Sinatra apparently is on vacation. In addition, they did the whole show on a huge empty stage with some chairs and an occasional umbrella for props. It wasn't as cute an idea as they thought.

Hermione Gingold, usually a very funny woman, and Peter Lawford, an amusing fellow with his usual spicy bits. Laraine Day, interviewing the low, seemed self-conscious. LeSeur, interviewing the former president, appeared to run out of questions after about 15 minutes due to Truman's short answers and frequent refusal to answer some questions at all.

"Conquest" turned some light into another interesting area of scientific research. The CBS cameras visited Harvard Medical school where researchers are hypnotizing men and women and studying their reactions.

There was a lot of preliminary fuss about plugs on the Friday night NBC Bob Hope show. I counted six in his opening monologue and the elimination of all of them wouldn't have hurt his spiel at all. There were only five in the disputed payola sketch, which wasn't very funny or very witty anyway.

New York — Whether to attend the Hall of Fame "Christmas Festival" or see Judy Garland in a 20-year-old movie so good it doesn't need adapting for television. Whether to see Gore Vidal's play about the ordeal of his grandfather or keep an eye on Frank Sinatra and friends.

These were but two of the gruelling decisions to be made during a weekend of television just bursting at the station breaks with yuletide spirit and gift suggestions.

My decision was that NBC's "Christmas Festival" would just be more of what it started a few days earlier with "Once Upon a Christmas Time," so I stuck with "The Wizard of Oz." I missed it last year, but found that 20 years has done nothing to destroy its enchantment. CBS thought it necessary to add Red Skelton and daughter as hosts to make a few out-of-mood remarks now and again.

Vidal, one of TV's bright young writers, not only wrote the "Indestructible Mr. Gore," about his grandfather, the late Sen. Thomas Gore, but wrote himself the part of the narrator, too. It was the story of a determined, bright and blind young lawyer determined to become a senator.

I left NBC at the halfway mark when Vidal was still introducing characters, doing flashbacks and meeting his own great-grandfather, who in turn was reminiscing about the Civil war. Things speeded up during the second half apparently, because my family reported that young Mr. Gore triumphed over a dastardly plot. (If you want to keep in touch these busy days, you've got to have two TV sets and assistant viewers.)

The second Sinatra show on type-casting, says Warner Brothers.

The President's Message

As President Eisenhower finishes the half-way mark in his unprecedented visit to 19 countries, one impression becomes increasingly clear: whatever the official pronouncements of the nations' leaders, the people of the earth still look to the United States for the hope of the world.

This fact became noticeable as the President reached the less developed nations, the poorer people and those most recently released from colonial ties. Here is where hunger stalks every by-way, where infant mortality rates are appalling, where westerners often find a casual attitude toward death and suffering because there is so much of it. It did not seem, from the welcome which was given to the President, that the enthusiasm was an effort to pry more foreign aid from the United States or to ensure protection from the Reds by U. S. troops. It was far more an atmosphere of recognition of the American visitor, some almost mystical feeling of the brotherhood of man.

The people who thronged the streets in New Delhi, in Ankara, in Karachi, were not looking for refrigerators or dams or even medical aid. For this they would have given the Russian visitors, Khrushchev and Bulganin, as big a hand but they didn't. The crowds cheered President Eisenhower because he represented to them a nation which offered the hope of justice and peace. Our foreign aid programs may sometimes bungle, arrogant or thoughtless Americans may become despised and ridiculed, recipient governments may try to scrounge a little bigger grant, or attempt to play us off against the Soviet Union for more help from both sides, but the people in the countries where the President visited made it very clear that they are not neutral.

Politicians may sometimes scoff at personal diplomacy as temporary and signing no treaties. But the emotional impact of the President's visit no longer can be overlooked. It has emphasized more than anything else the common bond of all mankind, the common aims and hopes and prayers. As Lamartine wrote long ago, "Limited in his nature, infinite in his desires, man is a fallen god who remembers the heavens." Whatever the race or creed or condition of living, man seems capable of harboring these intimations of immortality. It is not our high material standard of living which President Eisenhower represents or which the crowds are acclaiming. It is the hope and belief, however unexpressed, in the dignity and worth of each individual.

Cranboree Week in Wisconsin

Wisconsin, because it is the second greatest cranberry producing state in the nation, suffered more than most when cranberries were practically chased off of the market shortly before Thanksgiving day.

For that reason the people of Wisconsin should join wholeheartedly with Gov. Nelson in his enthusiastic designation of this week as "Cranboree Week in Wisconsin." As the governor pointed out, both the state and federal health authorities have certified the wholesomeness and safety of cranberries which will be found on the grocery shelves for Christmas and there is no danger from them to anybody who wants cranberries as a part of their Christmas and New Year's dinners.

The State Department of Agriculture and the cranberry industry have joined hands in an effort to publicize Cranboree Week to get the cranberry relish back on the tables of the people of Wisconsin and other states for the holiday season.

The reassurances of the safety of the Wisconsin cranberry product will be broadcast and published widely. Schools, state institutions, home agents, and service personnel will be asked to cooperate in the use of cranberry dishes this holiday season. Food stores will be asked to use their advertising facilities to sell the product and restaurants have been asked to include cranberries on their menus.

Iceland Cools Off

One of the trouble spots in the world seems to be quieting down mostly because it has had its own way.

In 1956 the Iceland parliament passed a resolution asking that all foreign troops be removed from the island. This meant the 5,000 Americans stationed at our air base at Keflavik. Last year Iceland announced it was extending its 4-mile limit to 12 miles and there was a fracas with the British. British frigates still patrol the disputed areas to protect British fishing trawlers seeking cod. There were rumors of considerable communist influence in the Icelandic government and fear that part of the Atlantic air alliance for NATO would be disrupted.

But, after a series of explosive incidents during the summer, the United States recalled a controversial brigadier general in command of the Iceland base. There are signs that stringent Iceland customs regulations will be lowered so that American servicemen can at least bring baby food to their children living off the base. Icelandic taxi drivers, apparently related to the French variety, now are getting fined for exceeding base speed limits. Servicemen stationed in the cheerless Quonset huts on the 25,000 acre base are hoping that eventually more than 130 of them can leave the post at one time and they won't have to be off the streets of Reykjavik by 10 o'clock. Somebody might even encourage trees to grow to keep the one lone evergreen, called "the Keflavik national forest," company on the barren base.

Next March the United Nations Law-of-the-Sea conference, which didn't get anywhere during its last session, convenes in Geneva. Icelanders feel they will have enough support from Scandinavian, Asian and African representatives to get their 12-mile limit formally approved. The British have officially conceded that there are fewer cod in the disputed area but have not agreed that the Icelanders have the legal right to what is left.

Iceland may be an icicle in the flesh to free world planners who recognize the dangers of communist infiltration and the needs of concerted free world action against it. But the stubborn insistence of traditional ways and rigid independence is one method by which free countries get that way and stay that way. Iceland may be irritating but it is apt to remain free.

Better Signs at the State Lines

Recently Gov. Nelson, driving along the Wisconsin interstate highway, missed the Wisconsin-Illinois state line and was several miles into Illinois before he realized his error.

Now motorists driving north from Illinois may be well into Wisconsin at the Illinois speed of 70 miles per hour before they realize it. But in Wisconsin the speed limit is 65 miles per hour in the daytime and 55 miles per hour at night. The drivers are subject to arrest in Wisconsin and the violation may be fairly serious at night when the difference between the Illinois and Wisconsin speed limits is as much as 15 miles per hour.

Stuart B. Wright, general manager of the Wisconsin Division of the American Automobile association, is calling upon the Wisconsin Highway commission to erect a large reflectorized sign warning the motorist leaving Illinois that the speed limit is lower. The request is a reasonable one and we feel certain that the Wisconsin Highway Department will go along with it at the earliest possible opportunity.

General Says Reds Respect U. S. Might

From The Albuquerque Journal

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former commander of SHAPE and current president of the American Red Cross, sees Russia as respecting the military might of the U. S. and believes no attack on this nation is in prospect.

The general's optimistic viewpoint, however, is tempered with the warning that "we must not start thinking that because there is no war there will be peace."

Gruenther says the nation must use patience, wisdom and even humility in building the free world's defense against communism.

One great hope for peace, he said, came with Khrushchev's withdrawal of the ultimatum that the U. S. get out of Berlin.

We would interpret Gen. Gruenther's version to be that, though peace is possible, we must not let down our military guard. We must not be caught short, if the Russian plea for peace turns out phony and only as a means to strip us of the proper preparedness, if a military showdown ever comes.

The general's thinking, we believe, is that of most Americans.

Time Marches On

Under the Capitol Dome

No Indispensable Men in Public Service, Party Appointees Learn

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Charles F. Smith of Wausau, one of the Republican holdover members of the state conservation commission, remarked recently that two of his departing colleagues are "martyrs" to political considerations.

He referred to Leonard Seyberth of Eau Claire and A. W. Schorger of Madison, Republicans whose terms have expired and who have been replaced by Gov. Nelson with John Lynch of Douglas county and Paul Olson of Madison.

Smith was speaking at a farewell party for the retiring commissioners and was perhaps overwhelmed by the sentimentality of the occasion. Yet there was contained in his complaint an idea that runs counter to the basic purposes of the Wisconsin conservation act and perhaps, of representative government. Nothing could be more hurtful to truly popular government and a democratic conservation program than the idea of the indispensable man, any man, in the policy-making branch of the conservation administration.

THE MEN Seyberth and Schorger were good commissioners, well above the average of competence and devotion and understanding of the men who have served on this popular board during the last 30 years.

Without intent to disparage Dr. Schorger, who is considerably older and accordingly lacks some of the younger man's stamina, Seyberth has been one of the best of the commissioners during the two decades that this correspondent has attended conservation department doings closely.

But there have been other good commissioners, outstanding and devoted men, who didn't imagine that because their service was good it should be permanent. The essence of the law setting up this machinery was the idea that the commissioners should be a buffer between the professional bureaucrat and the citizen in the ranks, representing the wishes of the latter and interpreting the purposes of the former. Wisconsin never intended to have a professional commission, with indefinite periods of service.

There is also implicit in the Smith thesis the idea that the governor ought to keep his nose out of conservation affairs, that he has no right to disturb the officeholders although he was elected by a decisive vote as the principal executive officer of the establishment.

There is a temptation to remark here that if past governors had followed that idea the state would never have had the benefit of Commissioner Smith's services. The least that ought to be said, perhaps, is that such a notion repudiates utterly the idea of popular control of the government. The governor who did not take the responsibility of naming men of his own choice, in whom he had confidence, would be a poor stick as a leader, indeed.

THE NEW MEN This reporter has stood on the sidelines at the capitol long enough to be aware of the hazards and the futility in premature appraisal of the qualities of incoming officeholders.

Mr. Olson and Mr. Lynch will have many challenges of their mettle during the next six years.

It is fair to say, however, that both come to their tasks with eminent qualifications in the way of interest and service in the cause of natural resources conservation, which is one of the deliberately general prerequisites listed in the law.

That both are Democrats goes without saying, and should occasion no more comment than the fact that preceding governors managed always to choose Republicans for the commission seats at their disposal. Gov. Nelson, moreover, has a more direct interest in this subject than some of his predecessors and he is no slouch as a politician. Chances are that he thought long and carefully about the men chosen for this keenly sensitive board.

Looking Backward

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 18, 1880.

Bismarck proposes to diversify his persecution of Catholic bishops and priests. He will give them a breathing spell. So he secretly stirs up the bigoted and intolerant religionists and free thinkers to a fresh persecution of the Jews until now it is apparent that the anti-Jewish feeling in Germany is on the increase.

It is hinted that no effort will be made by the government to temper or suppress it. The Germans have suddenly awakened with alarm to the fact that the money power of the Empire is controlled by the people of Israel. This may be one of the bitter feelings against the Jews, but the principal cause, undoubtedly, is the inherent prejudice existing in Continental Europe against a people whose greatest crime is industry and whose most grievous offense is the knack of getting money—and keeping it.

The German Israelites have acted promptly. They see the coming storm. It will soon burst upon them in the shape of mob violence, robbery, arson and murder. All who have the financial ability to do so, will speedily emigrate to America. Three thousand left last week and 30,000 will try to speedily follow them.

Israelites in Wisconsin, who have friends and relatives in Germany, should send them aid at once to enable them to escape the wolfish instincts of intolerance and bigotry.

Twin Cities Writers Protest Increased Costs of Government

Menasha Viewpoint

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Since the writing of my letter to you which you so generously printed regarding the relief of taxpayers of 65 years of age, which would also cover widows and pensioners, and while I have many comments regarding this which should be a city ordinance and nothing to do with state tax laws, as the money received from taxes by property owners is at the discretion of your city councils only, and while some city attorneys come out and say it would be unlawful, I am asking anybody to cite wherein this system is unlawful. They receive back from the state large sums of money as returnable income to be used by the councils as they see fit. In many instances the raises of their own salaries, trips to west coast, expenses to what is called Wisconsin League of Municipalities conventions, which is nothing more than a merchandise mart covering articles used by cities and counties. I know as I attended two while an alderman and all I could see was certain rooms in hotels where drinks were for free to all city fathers. In other words plain drunkfests. I refused to accept a city check for my expenses on either occasion. I paid my own, but there were other men who accepted checks and never were there.

Now let's get back to my proposal previously printed in your paper. It is noted that for some time past the council has plans for a large rump exhibition palace to cost possible one million dollars which to my mind is wrong for the city fathers to use taxpayers' money for this purpose especially some of it from widows and the aged under the guise of for children. This is a lie if there ever was one. One can readily see if one visits either Neenah or Menasha pools while there are a great number of people there at night.

There are a lot of grown ups who had better stay at home with their own bath tub and from a moral standpoint I am much against it for the reason that a disease could originate from these affairs. They tell you that the water is changed in city pools in order to get away from the impurity in the water. This is not common sense for I maintain the pool would have to be emptied after each and every person took a plunge.

I wish to state that I am not against whatever the people want. They are the ones who take the risks. But I do deplore the taking of city taxes especially from the widows and aged. I say let those who want the pool pay for it and the maintenance also. These affairs should be paid by donations such as was promoted by Clark hospital which went over after one month's canvass. These are things that are outside of property taxes.

While I am still at this machine I want to congratulate the mayor of Kaukauna who refused to accept a raise in salary. How many of you aldermen and mayors will cut your own salaries and become a civic minded person. Why not put out a referendum in the spring election to get the peoples' stand on this affair.

I also will congratulate your Ald. Schneider for his stand on the community plan which to my mind is a racket and work that should be done by the mayors and aldermen. That is what their jobs call for and if they are not qualified to do this work for heavens sake turn in your keys and the people will try and get men of ability and civic minded to do the job right.

Neenah Taxes High

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Fellow Taxpayers:

Neenah taxpayers for the coming year have been hit with the highest tax rate in the city's 65 year history.

Less than two years ago, on the rostrum of the Neenah High School auditorium there appeared a new comer to the political scene, a man who was destined to become the leader of the Bell Economy Administration. Many people, who like myself attended the meeting are now confused and flabbergasted at the stuffing off of the platform for which our present mayor beat his drum so vigorously that evening... the platform of economy, lower taxes, a better informed public, etc., etc.

One may still recall the baseless attack made upon the administration then in office, which our present mayor dubbed as one characterized by "its loose handling of public funds," one which appalled the candidate for its having brought down upon the Neenah taxpayers the highest tax rate in Neenah history.

What has the Bell Economy Administration done about the tax rate? Simply raised the rate twice in the two years Mayor Bell has headed our city administration.

May I call attention to that exciting moment in the meeting when Mayor Bell rattled off figures down to the last penny on the cost of the now defunct annual Halloween party. Concealed in 1941 by our police department to serve a very realistic purpose, it was called a "hot potato" by one alderman this year and died a hush, hush death. Certainly not a great tribute to the present administration. This party, I believe was the basis for the mayor's remark that the administration he was campaigning to oust from office was "loose in its handling of public funds."

At this point may I refer to a letter in which I questioned the wisdom of the Bell Economy Administration for spending $569 more than was necessary on the Kimberly school remodeling project by rejecting the lowest bid for the work. This I class as "loose handling of public funds."

One of the first acts our present mayor indulged in after election was to participate in the penning of a lengthy contract covering fire protection for the Lakeview Mill. This contract stripped of all its garnish and tinsel is no different in intent than those negotiated in years past. For this protection the city receives what the council wishes to call a gift of $2,000 per year. The mayor's contract received unanimous approval from the council. What is the City of Neenah entitled to for this service? Is the City in a position to enter into contracts such as this? The complete and factual story on this issue and another equally as vital I hope to have ready for presentation shortly.

With continually increasing living costs staring each of us in the face, with more and more people joining the ranks of the retired, living for the most part on fixed incomes, isn't it about time we pulled in our belts a notch or two and did more than just talk about economy in City government?

Perhaps we are running dangerously short of Viceroy men on our Council.

Lawrence Says
Ivy League Has Loyalty Oaths
Of Its Own

Loans to Athletes
Require Allegiance
To Sports Pact

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Some of the eastern colleges which have refused to allow their students to sign "loyalty oaths" so as to conform to federal law governing loans to students are now facing strong criticism for their own inconsistencies. They themselves impose a species of "loyalty oath" which goes further in impinging on the rights of the individual than anything required by congress.

The so-called "ivy group agreement," which is a treaty between Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Brown, Cornell, Columbia and Dartmouth, consists of two closely printed pages containing ten restrictive provisions and requiring detailed information and a series of pledges. These include a complete disclosure of how much money the student is to receive from his family, from relatives and from any occupation throughout each year, and an itemized statement as to what sources, including savings, are to be used in financing his education. The "loyalty oath" reads as follows: "I certify that the information here provided is accurate and complete and that I believe I am eligible to compete as an amateur in the college I am now attending."

"I have read and agree to abide by the policies and spirit of the Ivy Group agreement."

Oath Limits Athletes

This must be signed once a year during each of the four years of attendance. But it goes beyond the four sport seasons themselves. The athlete must swear he will not participate in any "post-season" games even if he receives no compensation. Two seniors at the University of Pennsylvania, which won the football championship of the Ivy league last month, were recently invited to play in a north-south postseason game of the colleges. While they had already completed their football careers as undergraduates, their own university was threatened with a forfeiture of the championship if they played. They obeyed the edict.

Seemingly there is a tendency to suspect all those who may be working their way through college. Authorities scrutinize every dollar of income a student receives to see if it comes from some outside source interested in helping an athlete.

The Ivy group agreement goes so far as to prohibit any athlete from "engaging for money or other substantial consideration in any occupation, business transaction or advertising promotion where in his usefulness or value arises chiefly from the publicity value of his name as an athlete or his ability as an athlete, etc."

Is it fair to inquire into the personal finances and occupations of every student just because he is an athlete? Can't he be trusted by taking a simple oath of allegiance to his college and the cause of amateur athletics? Why must the students who happen to be athletes undergo such a minute inspection of their personal affairs?

Object to Oath

When congress asks a student who applies for a government loan to take an oath of allegiance to his own government some of the spokesmen for Ivy league colleges condemn this as an "affront" and "coercion" and an insult to the students. The American Council on Education calls it "superfluous" and "interference."

The theory is that it pries into the private affairs of the student and makes him swear to something he doesn't intend to do anyway. Loyalty to the government, it is argued, should be taken for granted. Then why shouldn't amateur standing and professional behavior be taken for granted, too?

Some form of pledge is felt to be necessary by the college authorities to conform to what is referred to as "the policies and the spirit of the Ivy group agreement." The eight colleges concerned have formed a governing body, and they rightly desire to prevent any professionalism. The agreement may be too detailed and too restrictive, yet its general spirit is understandable. But what isn't understandable is why the representatives of at least four of the Ivy league colleges and the Association of University Professors have spoken out against the "loyalty oath" requirements. It is well known the communist technique is to try to infiltrate members of the faculty as well as students of universities everywhere in carrying on anti-American propaganda.

Seek Transfer
Spent Funds

The method for transferring $14,751.75 from surplus to overspent accounts within the city's 1959 budget has been approved by the council's finance committee despite objection.

Included in the amount for transfer is $7,500 to the hard-pressed snow and ice removal account which was originally set at $20,000, but which now will total $85,500.

The $85,000 does take into account deductions for special assessments for the work, made against property owners along some major traffic carriers. It is a total cost figure. The $20,000 was to take into account later the addition of special assessments.

Debate Method

The $85,000 compares to $31,809.81 actually spent for the same work in 1958.

Ald. Homer Malmstrom and City Clerk Broehm debated about how to transfer the money.

Malmstrom contended the money should be transferred from the general fund, thus eliminating the size of the legal advertisement required and keeping the 1959 budget figures intact.

Broehm said he'd have to have a city attorney's opinion before changing the method. Malmstrom said the city just recently transferred $28,000 from the general fund for the Lawe street retaining wall work and there was no question.

Girls, 15, 16, Ordered
Damage to Stolen Cars

Two girls, aged 15 and 16, have been ordered to pay $121.05 each for damage to stolen cars, but were judged not delinquent by County Judge Stanley A. Staidl. The court, however, ordered 3-month reports on the girls' behavior for the next year.

The girls stole a 1957 car from St. Joseph Catholic church parking lot Sept. 25, 1958, and sideswiped another car a short distance away. They abandoned the car later.

The 16-year-old also stole a car, with a different girl companion, Sept. 7 this year. The 15-year-old used a glass cutter to scratch a store window in 1956 and admitted shoplifting in 1957, it was indicated.

3-Acre Ball Park
Site Offered

A 3-acre ball park site adjacent to Telulah park has been offered to the city by Mrs. Anna Grishaber Armstrong.

The site is east of Telulah park and immediately north of the railroad tracks. Mrs. Armstrong is asking $12,000 for the parcel.

The city is looking for a ball diamond site to replace the Interlake park diamond. Interlake park will be used as a swimming pool site.

Driver Escapes
Hits Parked Auto

William J. Ollila, 25, of 204 W. Prospect avenue, escaped injury about 10:25 p.m. Sunday when his northbound car hit a parked car in the 200 block of N. Rankin street, knocked it 15 feet against a tree, traveled 50 feet and sideswiped a tree, then went another 34 feet and ended touching the porch of a home at 224 N. Rankin.

Ollila told police he did not remember what happened.

A car driven by Charles W. McCullough, 17, of 608 State street, Menasha, skidded 40 feet and crashed into two cars waiting for a traffic signal near Memorial drive and Prospect avenue about 2 p.m. Saturday. Drivers of the cars hit were William E. Greil, 50, of 802 W. Franklin street, and

Kimberly Seeks NCA Evaluation Of High School

Several Additions to Current Program Must be Made

Kimberly — Kimberly has requested the North Central association to have its high school evaluated for admission to the North Central association, according to J. R. Gerrits, superintendent of schools.

The association establishes a set of rules and regulations which must be met before a school is evaluated. The regulations govern educational standards which provide more benefits for the students.

With the building of the new elementary school, the former kindergartens have been made into physics and chemistry laboratories. Two years ago a new library was built as part of the study hall. A full time guidance man is now on the Kimberly High school faculty and also a full time high school principal.

Time To Prepare
The school will be given one year to get ready for the evaluation. A full time language teacher will have to be added to the staff for next year and additional guidance help will be necessary.

All students will be compelled to take physical education. A curtain for the gymnasium has been installed to permit two physical education classes being held during the same class period.

Class enrollment required by the North Central association is not to exceed 26 in number. Kimberly's class load is 22 pupils. A second commercial teacher was added last year and all of the tenth graders are given a year of typing.

Three years of mathematics is now being offered and a fourth year will be added when enrollment warrants it. An advanced course in science for juniors and seniors will be offered during the summer school session.

Rural Kaukauna Man Fined for Speeding

Kaukauna — Merlin Van Der Heiden, 19, route 2, Kaukauna, pleaded guilty of speeding when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Monday and was fined $10.

Nearly 1,000 Little Chute youngsters turned out for the annual visit from Santa Claus sponsored by the American Legion post Saturday afternoon. The children saw movies and were given a bag of candy.

Combined Locks Pupils to Present Two Christmas Shows

Combined Locks — Students of Combined Locks grade school will present two showings of a Christmas program, a matinee for pre-school age children at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the school and an 8 p.m. Thursday performance for adults.

Santa will visit the matinee to distribute candy to all children, pre-school as well as those of school age.

The program will open with the school band under the direction of Harold Janssen playing several selections. First graders taught by Mrs. Ceil Martz will present the welcome followed by a Christmas song and play by kindergarten students taught by Mrs. Ethel Wulterkins.

"C Is For The Christ Child," will be offered by Jennifer Strick, Paula Torgeson, Linda Kamps, Tom Van Thiel, Dick Biese and David DeValk. First graders taught by Miss Jean Williamson will present a Christmas play.

Jere Grafmeier will play an accordion solo followed by a Christmas play presented by Miss Inez Boucher's second graders. Mrs. Marie Couillard's third graders will sing a song as will fourth graders taught by Mrs. Joyce Hardtke. Mark Van Thiel, Ron Blase and Jack Couillard will play a cornet trio, "The Barbara Polka."

A Christmas drill will be presented by fifth graders under the direction of Mrs. Marie Bauers after which sixth graders will present "The Nativity Scene." Sixth graders are taught by Russell Johns. Terry Aerts will sing, "Ades-te Fidelis."

Eighth graders taught by Mrs. Angela Huebner will present "Christmas Through The Ages." Singing "Away In A Manger" will be Linda Brunner, Myra Bruss and Jean Van Eperen. Mrs. Dorothy Kuffner's seventh graders will present a "Christmas Pantomime" after which Mrs. Ceil Martz's first grade class will give the closing.

Jule Pennings Jars 244 High At Little Chute

Little Chute — Jule Pennings smashed a 244 game to take individual honors in the Businessmen's league at the Recreation alleys.

Jim Van Lankvelt rolled a 234 singleton for the Hillside Bar team for top honors in the American Legion circuit. Orion Reynbeau of Hillsdale had the high series of the night, a 595 count.

Van Lankvelt posted a 588 set and other top scores included a 564 series by Joe Reynbeau, 585 set by Art Pennings and 551 by Norm Keybrock.

Yule Decoration Thefts Start at Little Chute

Little Chute — Petty thieves or vandals were off to an early start in discouraging home owners from putting out Christmas decorations. Little Chute police received three complaints over the weekend about stolen light sets and colored bulbs.

One home owner reported 40 bulbs stolen from his sets. Sylvester Vandenberg, chief, asks home owners and neighbors to help watch where decorations are out and notify police when strangers enter yards or loiter around homes.

Culprits may think they are pulling a practical joke, but if apprehended they will learn otherwise, warned the chief.

C. R. Seaborne Earns Silver Knight Award Of Management Club

Kaukauna — The Thilmany Management club awarded a Silver Knights award, the first in the 14-year history of the club, to C. R. Seaborne, retired executive vice president of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, at its December meeting.

The award, made by N. F. Gerend, club president, is granted to an individual for outstanding services on behalf of the group.

St. John Will Meet Squires

Chuters Play at DePere Tonight In FVCC Game

Little Chute — St. John High school will travel to DePere tonight to meet Abbot Penning's High in a Fox Valley Catholic conference basketball game.

The Dutchmen will be looking for their second straight league win. Abbot Penning's, formerly St. Norbert, has a 1-2 conference record. Marquette Catholic and St. Mary Menasha lead the loop with 2-0 marks.

St. John has an overall season mark of 3-2 with all three victories coming in succession after the Chuters dropped a pair of close games to start the campaign.

Squire Record
The Dutchmen dropped games to Wayland academy and Wausau Newman and then posted wins over Wisconsin Rapids Assumption, Fox Valley Lutheran and Pre-montre of Green Bay. In league action, the Squires won over St. Mary Springs of Fond du Lac and then dropped games to Marinette and St. Mary Menasha.

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick is trying to get the Chuter offense on the right track early in the game. St. John has been scoring well in the third and fourth periods but has not been able to hit with consistency in the first half.

The game will be the first of two conference tilts of the week for St. John. Saturday night they will entertain Springfield.

51 Students on Honor List at Kimberly High

Ike Boards Ship For 3-Day Rest

Eisenhower waved as the helicopter rose and headed toward Phaleron bay, where the Des Moines president. The flight gave the president his one bit of sightseeing in Athens. The route took him over Acropolis Hill and its ancient Greek ruins.

A near accident almost marred the departure. An accompanying U. S. navy helicopter carrying Greek newsmen and photographers, taking off a minute after Eisenhower, hit a down draft and plummeted to the ground. It was not damaged and took off again a few minutes later.

In a final luncheon toast to King Paul, the president saluted the monarch as a "stalwart standard-bearer of the unquenchable spirit of Hellenism." He said American-Greek friendship was "cemented in war and in our common effort to preserve and to amplify the concept of liberty, a heritage from the ancient Greeks."

In turn, the 58-year-old king, in an obvious reference to Greek communists, said:

"Should we use your efforts to bring peace on the international scene as an excuse to slowly relax our vigilance against the subversive forces at home, and surrender to them all that is sacred to us, then we shall have defeated our purpose."

The demonstration that greeted the president's speech in parliament far exceeded the enthusiasm displayed in the Indian and Iranian parliaments, the two legislative bodies so far on his visit to seven countries.

Eisenhower called on freedom-loving strong militarily, economically and above all spiritually until they have won a secure peace in freedom. He stressed the need for freedom in any solid east-west understanding.

"By forever repudiating the use of aggressive force we shall win the sort of peace we want, with friendship in freedom," he said. "...I mean freedom, in which, under the rule of law, every human will have the right and a fair chance to live his own life, to choose his own path, to work out his own destiny."

The response appeared to be the greatest ever given a foreign statesman in the Greek parliament.

Benson Made Whipping Boy In Campaign

Ottumwa, Iowa — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson was the favorite whipping boy for both sides in a special election today to name a new congressman from Iowa's 4th district.

Democrat C. Edwin Gilmour, 42, of Grinnell, and Republican John Kyl, 40, of Bloomfield, were vying for the congressional seat left vacant by the death Nov. 4 of Rep. Steven Carter, Leon Democrat.

National leaders of both parties were watching the election closely as a barometer of farm sentiment in the midwest corn-belt.

Despite evidence of national interest, however, political leaders of the district predicted a relatively light vote.

Both Gilmour and Kyl heaped criticism on Benson during their month-long campaign, blaming him for falling farm prices, the sagging hog market, and pyramiding supermarkets.

Roger Leatheow, 13, holds Old Yeller, the family pet who arrived in time for Christmas. Old Yeller jumped out of the family automobile near Princeton, Ind., five months ago as Roger and his dad drove to Kenosha and the family's new home. Sunday there was a scratching at the door and Old Yeller was home. Roger says he doesn't know how Old Yeller found his way but says his prayers were answered.

Herter Backs Single Command for NATO

Herter said the west must seek tangible agreements with the Soviet Union on two points — (1) Soviet control and (2) the division of Germany and Italy.

Herter said that NATO was now entering a new period and should make its plans for a decade of peace with security.

Rockefeller Arrives For Wisconsin Tour

the multi-millionaire politician or the accounts of his engaging personality or by a desire to push him toward the White House was not immediately apparent. The question will be examined by Rockefeller and his campaign advisors when he decides whether to challenge the vice president. In a battle for Wisconsin delegates, Nixon is virtually certain to the related problem of Berlin. The acid test, Herter added, will be the Russian attitude on Berlin.

Even as Herter spoke, de Gaulle restated his ideas to a group of French parliamentarians who visited him.

One reported the French president said: "During the last two world wars allied forces were not integrated. Nonetheless they won victories."

Herter made his expected plea that European nations shoulder a greater share of NATO's defense burden. He said Europe has regained its vitality and was able to do this. However, Herter said, the United States was ready to continue its military aid program.

Welcomes Progress Herter welcomed the economic progress Europe has made. But he pointed out that partly because of this U. S. supported economic development of Europe, the United States itself was running into deficits. In this light, Europe must come forward with more defense spending and aid to underdeveloped areas, he said.

Herter said that NATO was now entering a new period and should make its plans for a decade of peace with security.

enter a Wisconsin delegate slate.

But the signs of a Rockefeller campaign organization are already becoming visible. Among the leaders who are available are Wilbur Renk, Dane county farmer and Republican politician who headed the Wisconsin citizens for Eisenhower organization seven years ago, Floyd Springer, political agent of H. F. Johnson, the Racine industrialist and Peter Pappas, La Crosse, former legal counsel to former Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, Sen. W. A. Draheim.

Sen. N. A. Draheim, Neenah, told a reporter this morning that "Rockefeller looks like a winner to me" and indicated that he would be willing to run on a Rockefeller delegate slate.

Greeting Rockefeller at the airport were the heads of the Wisconsin Republican party organization, led by Chairman Claude Jasper, most of the principal Republican leaders in the legislature and former Gov. Thomson and former Gov. Oscar Rennebohm.

At his press conference Rockefeller was asked whether he would accept backing from Wisconsin supporters of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy if he becomes a presidential candidate. He said he would not discourage votes from any quarter.

But he added:

ference in point of view from the things McCarthy stood for and what he was known for."

In response to another question he said he has had no contact with Wisconsin-McCarthy supporters as far as he is aware.

As expected, the New York governor who sponsored last year a state income tax withholding law said that tax resulted from special local circumstances that are not necessarily applicable in Wisconsin where Republican members of the legislature now are resisting Democratic Gov. Nelson's demands for a Wisconsin withholding tax.

Rockefeller also said he is not yet prepared to take a position on proposals for government health care under the social security act until he sees what insurance companies can do in the field but he said the problem of sickness among the aged is one of the most serious facing the country.

dy, 72, a widower who married again just a few weeks ago, is honeymooning in Europe.

On retirement Lewis will be eligible to continue at full salary of $50,000 a year. He did not set a specific date for quitting, saying only it would be shortly after the new year.

Lewis, a familiar figure for years in newspaper headlines, is responsible more than any other labor leader for organizing workers of the nation's biggest industries into labor unions.

With the country on its economic knees in the great depression, Lewis capitalized on the National Recovery Act and the Wagner Labor Relations Act passed during former President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

Union Rights This established the rights of unions to organize and the obligation of employers to bargain with them on wages and working conditions. Lewis formed the CIO and drew millions of workers into union membership.

A man of iron will, Lewis fought the captains of industry and on many occasions the government itself in unrelenting battle to obtain bargaining rights and wage-benefits gains for workers in one industry after another.

In the past decade, although still vigorous and willing to fight if need be, Lewis conducted his union affairs in peace with the politicians and his old and favorite foes, the coal mine operators.

Lawrentians Highlight Holidays With Dance, Parties, Open House

Lawrence college was a beehive of activity last weekend, with a number of parties and dances gracing the halls and dorms.

To begin the activities was the junior Pan-Hellenic Christmas party for Indian children held in the Memorial union. The group sang carols and welcomed a visit from Santa.

The German club holiday party given by the department of German was in progress at the same time in the Memorial union. Students and faculty mingled in true holiday fashion.

Saturday was climaxed by the all-college Christmas dance from 9 p. m. to 1:30 a. m. in the union. Christmas greens and trees furnished an appropriate background for the formal affair.

The Lawrence college Christmas musicale was held at 3 p. m. Sunday in Harper hall and reminded everyone attending that the holiday season is close at hand.

Another annual event was the open house from 3 to 5 p. m. at Ormsby girls' dormitory. Friends and relatives of Lawrence students gathered for punch and a chance to see the gala decorations on which the freshmen girls had worked.

Other events taking place on the Lawrence campus are the serenades by the various sororities and fraternities. Sunday evening Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha music groups entertained residents of the dorms and also of Appleton with Christmas carols.

The students will leave Friday for their homes in all parts of the United States to celebrate Christmas with their families so the Lawrence campus will be shrouded in an aura of quietness until the students return in January.

The Lawrence Memorial union was the setting Saturday evening for the all-college Christmas formal. Dancing are Bonnie Maier, Racine, and William Moedius, Milwaukee.

Miss Bayer Feted at Showers

Miss Dolores Bayer, daughter of O. J. Bayer, 820 Fifth street, has been feted at a number of pre-nuptial parties in honor of her approaching marriage to Ludwig Mutschler, 131 S. Oneida street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Mutschler, New York City.

On Nov. 17 Mrs. Richard Huelsbeck, Mrs. Gordon Woldt, Mrs. Gerald Maertz and Mrs. Anthony Wyngard entertained the future bride at the Huelsbeck residence, 1504 N. Viola street.

A personal luncheon shower was given Nov. 14 at the Patio restaurant by members of the wedding party and on Nov. 17 Mrs. Syl Bayer and Mrs. Gerald Bayer entertained at a miscellaneous shower.

Miss Bayer will be married at a 10 a.m. ceremony Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic church.

Ann Advises Writer to Move From Ruling Mother-in-Law

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: When my husband was alive his mother lived with us. We built a room on for her but she was never in it. She ran our house, my husband and me. Mama got the pay check and I got a new pair of shoes.

I was never allowed in my own kitchen, except to clean up. She did all the cooking and baking. I was the maid. I begged my husband, on my knees, to move his mother to a place of her own. He refused, saying his mother came first. When I told him I wanted a divorce he said "That's O.K. with me." Two weeks later he died. Now his mother will not move out of my home. She says it's more hers than mine because her son was closer to her than to me. I can't stand the sight of this woman and she will not budge. What can I do? — Lilly

Dear Lilly: Sell the home and move out of the city if possible.

DEAR ANN: The family who lives next door has a six-year-old boy who isn't right mentally. I will call the child Ben.

Our own son is five and much smaller than the neighbor boy. Twice in the past month our son Jerry has come home crying, once with a cut lip and again with teeth marks on his arm.

Ben has violent temper tantrums, throws toys, kicks and bites. Then several days will go by and they will play nicely together. Jerry likes Ben and he is the only child anywhere his age on the entire street.

Ben's mother is a psychologist. She says it's essential that her son be permitted to play with normal children. She has begged me to cooperate. What shall I do? — Upset Mother

Dear Upset: Children who aren't mentally right present a heart breaking challenge to parents. Those of us who are blessed with normal children should try to understand their problems and help if we can.

Tell Ben's mother you'll "cooperate" if she will go the extra mile with you. This means she must promise to supervise the children every moment or provide supervision.

For your child's protection, an adult must be present to separate the children at the moment there is a sign of out-of-control emotions.

DEAR ANN: I think you write a good column but I don't always agree with your advice. Today was an example.

Why didn't you tell Mrs. S. C. that love does wonderful things to one's perspective? It makes plain ordinary folks look very special.

S. C. must look pretty good to his wife or she wouldn't be jealous of him. And he's low-rating himself when he says "I'm nothing to look at, and I wear a hearing aid besides." From his letter he sounds like he has a fine sense of humor and a good mind. This ought to count for something.

If he turns his hearing aid off as you suggested, he'll get her so mad she'll make herself heard without it. Probably, the neighbors will hear, too.

This man ought to sit down and tell his wife how much he loves her. This is the best anti-jealousy medicine there is. I know the score, Ann. I'm not much to look at either and I wear a hearing aid, too. I was a nagger and I lost him. — D.W.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Party-Going Teenagers Can Heed Make-Up Hints

During exciting, fast-paced holidays and the accompanying whirl of parties, the lid may be raised on teenagers' make-up.

But be sure make-up for holiday social events is controlled; you don't want the results to look like your make-up case blew its top.

Foundation—A clear complexion is still the best foundation base for 'teens. Start your make-up technique with a two-minute, fingertip wash and massage. Work up a creamy lather and massage your face, lifting up and out from the chin to the base of the ear. Continue the lifting motion from the base of your nose to your temples and around your forehead.

Additional under make-up protection is assured by using a mild soap that contains a germicidal additive. Soap provides a gentle but thorough cleansing action that won't strip your skin of essential oils. The antiseptic additive helps protect against bacteria that can spread blemishes.

Rinse Face
Rinse the face with lukewarm water, making certain it is neither too hot nor too cold. Hot water leaves pores open. Cold water may produce an icy shock that can overstimulate and rupture small

Trumps Aid Control of Some Hands

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
U.S. Masters Team Champion

Trumps are usually tricks, but they have another value: they enable you to keep control of the hand. If you waste your trumps you may lose control of a hand that seems unbeatable.

When this hand was played ed in a recent tournament, everybody who held the South cards made sure of getting to game in spades. The play required more skill than the bidding.

At each table of the tournament, West began by taking the king and ace of clubs. And then each West led the jack of clubs at the third trick.

The third trick separated the bridge players from the pinocchio pundits.

Mistakes to Trump

Let's see what happens if South makes the mistake of ruffing the third round of clubs. He begins to draw trumps and finds out the bad news.

The situation is hopeless. If South continues to draw trumps, he will go down two. West will eventually ruff and collect two good clubs.

South can hold it to down one by switching to hearts after one round of trumps. West ruffed the second round of hearts but cannot continue clubs since dummy will ruff. West must therefore return a trump or a diamond.

South must eventually lose a diamond for a one-trick defeat.

Should Discard

Now let's go back to the third trick, when West leads the jack of clubs. South cannot gain anything by ruffing. He should discard his low diamond instead.

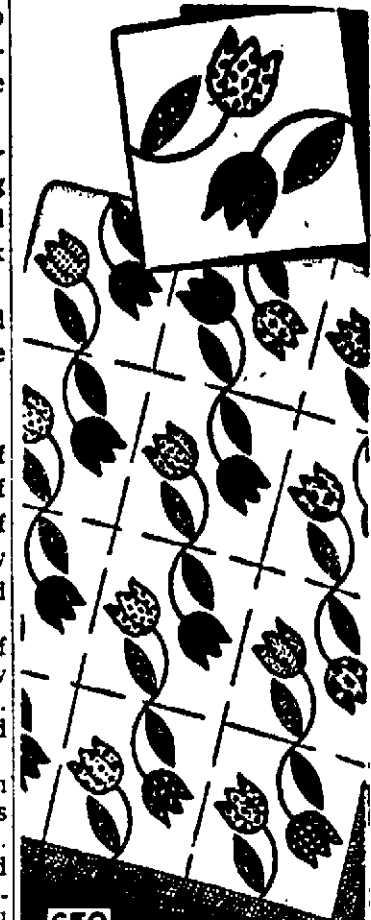

This discard cannot lose. No matter how the hand is played, South must eventually lose that low diamond.

The advantage of discarding is that South manages to keep control of the hand. If West continues with a fourth club, dummy ruffs with a low trump. It is then easy for declarer to extract all five trumps and claim the rest of the tricks. If West leads anything but a club at the fourth trick, South has an even easier time.

Singers Will Give Concert

The first of several specially commissioned works for Lawrence college's Music-Drama Festival year, "Choral Works for Advent" by Frank Pooler, will be premiered by the Lawrence singers at a Christmas concert at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in Harper hall. The new composition, by the director of the department of music at San Diego State college, San Diego, Calif., is included in the program directed by La Vahn Maesch.

Instrumental accompaniment for the program will be provided by organist Daniel Smith of the conservatory faculty; violoncellists Maria Wolfe Ming, also a faculty member, and Jan Smucker, East Lansing, Mich.; and violinists Judith Goodrich, Wilmette, Ill.; Lucille Orbison and Karl Sager, both of Appleton; and Lucy Baicher Heiberg, of the conservatory faculty.

In observance of the 200th anniversary of G. F. Handel's death, the group will perform his "Coronation Anthems," composed in 1727 for the coronation of George II.

The Lawrence singers is a group selected from the larger concert choir. Among those performing are Carolyn Cornell, Appleton; Thomas McGuire, Menasha; James Matern, Menasha; Edward Boehm, Menasha; Darrl Riley and John Bauerlein, both of Appleton.

The complete program is as follows:

- Rejoice, Beloved Christians
- Dietrich Buxtehude
- Cantata for Advent
- Choral Works for Advent
- Frank Pooler
- Gird Yourself with Lamentations
- The Desert Shall Rejoice
- Texts from the Books of Joel and Isaiah
- Coronation Anthems George F. Handel
- Zadok the Priest
- Let Thy Hand be Strengthened

Firearms Law Study Asked

Madison—A joint resolution calling for a study of Wisconsin firearms laws was introduced in the assembly Monday.

"Wisconsin's sister states," the measure stated, "have for years enjoyed the protection afforded by firearms registration and gun permit regulations."

The measure offered by the committee on rules at the request of David Mogilka (D-Milwaukee), calls for a study

A Christmas seminar was presented by the Catholic Daughters Choristers directed by Mrs. Clifford Vincent. The chorus includes Mrs. John E. LeFevre, Mrs. Robert Bodoh, Miss Josephine Steckbauer, Mrs. Eleanor Downs, Mrs. Eugene Birchler, Mrs. Michael Marrinan, Mrs. Frank Gorski, Mrs. Clarence Wallace, Mrs. Marvin De Bruin, Mrs. Sam Casey, Mrs. Gerald Loeper, Mrs. Gordon Sievers, Mrs. Thomas Weber, Miss Marie Haag, Miss Cecile Haag and Miss Virginia Brussow.

Co-chairmen of the party were Mrs. Clement Quella and Mrs. Harry Dietz. by the legislative council. Results would be submitted to the 1961 legislature.

Speaker George Molinaro (D-Kenosha) referred the matter to the joint finance committee for further study.

Industrial Park Plat Gets Okay

Appleton Industrial park tentative plat drawings were approved and the site received its official name at the city planning commission meeting Monday.

The plat contains seven irregularly shaped industrial lots, with a street bisecting it from east to west. The street is unnamed, although city drafters have labeled it temporarily "Leonard street."

The lots all have access to a railroad line and are on a city street. The plat includes right-of-way for an extension of the 80-foot Lyndale drive.

The tentative plat will go to the city council Wednesday for approval. The planning commission also adopted the name of "Industrial Park plat" for the site.

In Good Taste Recognizes Girl From Photograph

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A short while ago a friend of mine showed me a picture of her son's fiancée. One day, while on the bus, I recognized the girl from her picture and went over to her to ask her if she was "Mary, John's fiancée." She said she was, and I introduced myself. My husband, who was with me at the time, criticized me for walking up to a perfect stranger and introducing myself to her and said that I was wrong to have done so. I see nothing wrong in what I did, but to settle this dispute I would appreciate hearing what you have to say about this.

Answer: Under the circumstances, you were not wrong. If she had answered that she was not John's fiancée, you would have said, "I'm so sorry, please forgive me" and no harm would have been done.

Must She Rise?

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it impolite for a woman to shake hands with either another woman or a man without getting up? As an example, she is sitting on the sofa at a large tea or cocktail party. Another guest whom she has not seen for some time, comes over to greet her and holds out her hand. Does she have to get up out of the sofa? And what if this person were a man?

Answer: She must stand up if she is much younger than the woman greeting her. Otherwise she may stay where she is. Unless she is the hostess and he a new arrival, a woman does not rise for a man.

Use of First Names

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to call people by their first names after being introduced to them for the first time? I am referring to a couple in their mid-thirties.

Answer: Most certainly not, unless the couple has been introduced to a group in which only first names are used. And even then, they should wait to be told to call them by first names, before doing so.

U.S. Women Disagree Iranian Ambassador's Theory on Sheltered Life

AP Women's Editor

It seems American women take a dim view of the recent remarks of Abdul Hossein Hamzavi, Iranian ambassador to the United Nations, on the superior life of his sheltered and cherished countrywomen, who are protected from "all the unpleasant phases of life, such as voting."

"I am one of those working wives he finds so little deserving of his respect and admiration," writes an irate resident of Hamden, Conn. "It is true that the American woman is not shielded from the unpleasant things in life. She has, perhaps, lost her feminine right

Miss Carol Ward
Tell Troth of Carol A. Ward, R. C. Johnson

Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, 7303 E. Glendale avenue, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Carol Ann, to Robert C. Johnson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Cloquet, Minn.

Miss Ward attended Appleton High school and Lawrence college, where she was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She is employed by Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

Her fiance received his bachelor of science degree at Michigan college of Mining and Technology at Houghton, Mich. He is presently a graduate student at the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

A Feb. 13 wedding is planned.

to be cherished and protected. Her 'unveiling' brought her face to face with the grim reality of life for herself and her family... she feels 'a privilege to vote and pay her taxes from her earnings.'

"It is true that as a nation we cannot point to centuries of ancient culture nor hold ourselves the end product of a pure blood line. We are people composed of every race, creed and color on the face of the earth and we haven't yet, it seems, come to that high degree of polish that would enable us to give the insult in the suave, European manner. But the ingredients in our national melting pot have produced a nourishing stew—a stew of such life-giving strength that the rest of the world sits in hopeful anticipation of the invitation to share."

Typical Remarks

The remarks of the lady from Connecticut are typical of feminine reaction from all sections of the country. Writes a San Francisco career woman:

"I work all day, come home and cook dinner for my husband and two teen-age children, entertain frequently and take an active part in community affairs, including politics. My husband and I always have something to talk about—and he still says I'm glamorous. I'd hate to have to sit at home and just be protected all day. Very dull, I'd call it."

A working grandmother in Chicago writes:

"Mr. Hamzavi evidently overlooks the fact that most American women work from necessity rather than choice. I've always felt it was better to provide my children with three meals a day and the benefits of a good education than to sit at home defending my feminine rights."

Doctor's Answer

A feminine doctor in Cleveland says:

"It is a criminal waste today for any woman not to make full use of the talents and abilities God gave her. Our country was built on brains and energy—of women as well as men."

Charming and suave though ambassador Hamzavi may be, I have a sneaking suspicion that he is not equal to winning a debate with 10 million American working women when they get their dander up. He may not fully realize that American women like to be a

Make-Up Magic

As a fillip to your loveliness on these festive evenings, try this bit of make-up magic:

Apply cream or liquid powder base with a water-dampened sponge. Use tepid water, wring the sponge until barely moist, and then take up the base. This trick gives the skin a highly desirable translucence.

For more of the same, finish off powder applications with downward whisk of a clean puff or cotton ball. That way, face fuzz lies smooth.

Your eyes will appear larger and starrier, if you apply a half-inch strip of fake eyelashes at the outer ends and then flick up the corners with a soft pencil line.

Before applying mascara,

Self-Conscious Misfit

"... Perhaps my handwriting gives a clue to why I find it so difficult to get on an easy and friendly basis with people and why I seem to be a misfit, socially and in business... Enclosed is my boy friend's writing. We seem to get along well."

Don't worry so much! When you feel uneasy you make sensitive associates uneasy. Your boy friend's writing reveals part of the world about them—not just spectators on the sidelines. They have minds of their own, and some of them have asked what these sheltered Persian women think about.

The ambassador, of course, has an answer for that: "Why naturally they think about Persian men."

so much calm self-confidence that you can't ruffle him. This is an important reason that you "get along well."

Your handwriting reveals that shyness and self-consciousness plague you mercilessly. Letters "m," "n," and "h" are extremely cramped and written with light pen pressure.

You have many qualities that should make you a valued friend and efficient employee. You are idealistic, sincere and conscientious. You try so hard that you may fuss. As you are unusually reliable and competent you do not need to worry as you do.

Try to relax. Accept yourself (and others.) Don't expect to be perfect or to find

New York Women Fire Spotters Guard Forests

Albany, N.Y. — "When there is a bad fire, it seems to still the air. And the loneliness creeps in," the middle-aged widow says.

As she stands in her lofty perch atop Sugar hill in Schuylers county northwest of Elmira, N.Y., Mrs. Lorna Dewitt watches for forest fires as do three other women in other parts of New York state.

The four, among New York's 108 fire-spotters, have been keeping vigil for a total of 35 years.

The veteran is Mrs. Helen Ellett, 45, who has watched near Troy for 12 years. Mrs. Sophia Anderson, 60, has been on duty southeast of Syracuse for 10 years; Mrs. Leona Borst, 53, has watched west of Albany for nine years, and Mrs. Dewitt for four years.

Real Experts

"They are real experts at scanning the horizons for fire," says Solon J. Hyde, head of the New York State Conservation department's Bureau of Forest Fire Control. "They are very reliable."

When the trees are green, the grass lush and fire danger low, the women occupy themselves with planting trees, reading, fixing screens, cutting brush, mending the family clothing, painting, watching creatures of the forest or tending the recreation sites the state has built at many towers.

Mrs. Anderson has spent up to 18 consecutive days on the job in or beside her 90 foot tower.

"No ones relieves me," she says. "I just go on duty until a rainy day, then I call in and get the day off."

To Mrs. Ellett, "All fires are exciting, and not to be taken lightly."

Work Seven Months

Hyde discourages assignment of women to isolated towers, even though there is a cabin at the foot of each observatory. Watchers, who earn $61 a week, are not required to live at their posts but many do during very dry spells. They work about seven months a year.

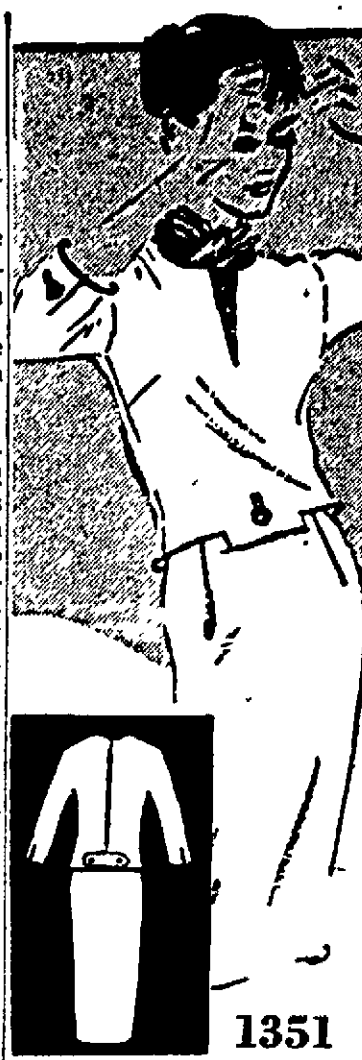

Few cabins have electricity. All have telephones to spread word of danger.

Mrs. Ellett's home is five and one-half miles from her tower. When spring and fall mud discourage motor travel, she mounts a horse for the trip.

"But the ones where the wardens call the tower and ask for all the help they can get are especially exciting," she says. "I call the stores and other places and ask them to tell the men who are there of the fires, and call the wardens and rangers to get all help available and take them to the fires."

Mrs. Borst has worked 70 hours a week in critical times. But to Mrs. Dewitt, the "unsung heroines" of the fire control service are the wives of the rangers.

"While their husbands are on duty, they take reports, locate help, direct and receive countless telephone calls."

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONIAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

North Central to Add Michigan Stop Jan. 1

North Central Airlines will begin new service to Benton Harbor — St. Joseph, Mich., on Jan. 1, according to Frank N. Buttomer, airline traffic and sales vice president.

The initial schedule is two round trips a day on a Grand Rapids-Chicago route.

Buttomer said the new service is an interim schedule and "will give us an opportunity to evaluate the traffic potential after a few months of operating experience."

Crinkle Ribbon Flower Has Strands of Curled Up Petals

BY CAPPY DICK

Crinkle ribbon used to tie gift packages can be made into easy-to-make flowers. Here's how:

Select very narrow ribbon for the center of the flower and wider crinkle ribbon, of another color, for the petals. Wind the narrow ribbon around the four fingers of your hand as in Figure 1. When you have wound enough for the center of the flower, wind the wider ribbon of contrasting color on top of the narrow strands.

When a rather thick bundle of the two colors has been twisted a length of green flower wire around the center of them as in Figure 2. Instead of green wire, you may use green pipe cleaner.

With the ribbon securely held by wire, use scissors to cut the loops.

Next, curl each strand of ribbon with a table knife. This is done by gently pulling the ribbon over the edge of the knife blade (Figure 3). The curls should bend toward the center of the flower.

The flower is then completed.

Evergreen Shrub Known as Shrimp Plant New to Home

By Katherine B. Walker

Occasionally, our own familiarity with a plant leads us to believe that everyone else also knows all about it. A case in point is the Shrimp plant (Beloperone guttata) which has been grown for years but which is actually somewhat of a newcomer to the house plant scene.

Shrimp plant is an evergreen shrub belonging to the Acanthaceae family, having a showy inflorescence of overlapping, brick-red bracts from which it got its common name. The true flowers are small, white and lavender, tubular in shape, and they dangle from the bracts like shrimp's legs.

A few years ago I was around when the yellow-bracted specimens were being developed in Florida. I thought at the time that the color was too pale for good contrast with the leaves, and of course without the red color, much of the semblance to a shrimp was lost, so the common name had little point. However, the yellow-bracted variety has "caught on", and is now available in a much improved form.

Almost any soil suits Shrimp plant, although it does best in a fairly rich one. Since the plant requires heavy watering but must not have water-logged soil, some sand may need to be added to facilitate drainage. Give Shrimp plant a warm, sunny location, a reasonably humid atmosphere, and spray the top growth with plain water as often as convenient. As you know, top-spraying not only encourages better growth but it also discourages insect pests.

One important point in growing Shrimp plant well is to prune it or cut it back when it begins to get leggy. Begin pinching for bushy growth when the plant is small, and prune to shape the plant whenever it needs it, even if you must sacrifice some flowers to do it. Propagate from the cuttings, rooting them in damp sand.

Questions and Answers

How can I find out if a friend of mine in England can send me certain plants she has that I want?

Write to the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine Control, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., to find what plants may be admitted.

Will my crotons grow as large as the ones I have seen outdoors in Florida gardens?

Potted crotons, grown indoors, will remain fairly small.

I have a palm that has grown much too tall for our living room. Can I cut this back?

Unless you have a variety of palm that suckers from the base, cutting back would only result in the plant's death. Perhaps you could sell your plant to a bank or large office building as a lobby decoration, and start over again with a smaller one.

Why is it better to repot a small plant into a pot only a size or two larger, instead of putting it in the pot it will eventually grow into?

A small plant in a large pot is often overwatered. Too, it looks better in a pot that fits its size.

I have a strawberry jar planted with African violets, but I just can't seem to get it watered properly. The water, when I pour it in on the top, runs out of the pockets before the soil is soaked all the way through. How do you water such a planter?

Take a tube of cardboard (or use a length of pipe) as long as your pot is high. It should be about two inches in diameter for a large pot, cor-

Envoys' Wives Study About Living Abroad

BY MARTHA COLE

Washington — A group of U.S. housewives who will accompany their husbands on foreign business missions have started a week of intensive briefings on living in a foreign land.

"We understand we're important," said a young wife, smiling.

Their husbands are taking a 6-week course offered by American universities here and planned by the Business Council for International Understanding for businessmen going overseas. The council itself, sponsored by 70 major American firms doing business overseas, was formed in 1955 at the request of the White House to help improve the image of the United States abroad.

Wives are brought in for the sixth week to discuss such items as cultural differences around the world, what America stands for, American foreign policy, the challenge of communism and more specific matters such as establishing a household abroad and entertaining.

More Understanding

"They want us to be more understanding, and also get us to read more about our own country and the one where we're going," said a wife after the first morning of briefings.

Esther Cole Franklin, who conducts the wives' part of the program, said the main aim was to make it practical. She herself has spent four years in Germany as the wife of a business executive.

As far as she knew, this was the first such program offered outside of the government to wives of men going overseas.

Ten businessmen and eight wives (two of the men are unmarried) are attending the second course from Nov. 9 to Dec. 19.

Qualified Director

Harold M. Randall, director of the program has been a career foreign service officer in the State department and in 1955 was named U.S. representative to the Inter-American Economic and Social council of the organization of American states, with the personal rank of ambassador.

Electric Heat Eliminated for Edison School

Air Conditioning Also Out; Member Criticizes Report

Electric heating and air conditioning were eliminated as possibilities for the new Edison school Monday night by the school board.

Air conditioning would have cost $75,000 and there probably is not enough time to design the building for electric heat, board members were told.

Board member John Schneider expressed dissatisfaction with the electric heating report submitted by Lotte and Fredericksen, electrical consultants for Architect Raymond N. LeVee, saying his investigation proved electric heating involved more than simple heat loss comparisons made by the consultants.

$16,650 Yearly

Lotte and Fredericksen said electric heating would cost $16,650 yearly, gas heating $3,787. Schneider agreed the yearly costs would be higher, but said construction costs would be substantially lower respondingly smaller for smaller pots. Insert it in the soil to the bottom of the jar (or put it in first and then fill soil in around it), and begin to fill it with fine gravel. As you fill it, pull it up, so that when you are finished, you have a core of gravel down the center of the jar. Apply water only to this core; it will go to the bottom and seep out through the soil.

Kimberly-Clark Buys Interest In French Firm

R. B. Sawtell to Move to Paris as General Manager

Neenah — Completion of negotiations for the acquisition by Kimberly-Clark corporation of a majority interest in a French company, Societe Sopalin, was announced today by John R. Kimberly, chairman of the board of Kimberly-Clark, and Rodolphe Darblay, chairman of Societe Anonyme les Papeteries Darblay, a 92-year-old French company which is the other shareholder of Societe Sopalin.

Kimberly and Darblay stated the acquisition was subject to the approval of French exchange control. As soon as the acquisition is approved, the facilities of Societe Sopalin will be modified and expanded as the first step in the production and distribution in France of such trademarked items as Kleenex tissues, Delsey bathroom tissue and Kotex.

Societe Sopalin, with its principal offices in Paris, has for some years been engaged in the conversion and distribution of a wide range of products made from cellulose wadding and paper at its mill south of Paris in Corbeil-Essonnes.

Basic raw materials are supplied by Les Papeteries Darblay, one of the leading paper manufacturers in France, having been in the paper business since 1869. Their Essennes mill dates back to 1799.

Named Manager
Richard B. Sawtell, 705 E. Forest avenue, manager, industrial marketing, planning and research for Kimberly-

Clark, has been appointed general manager of the French company.

Sawtell has been with Kimberly-Clark since 1933. He will move to France after the first of the year.

Kimberly-Clark had its beginning in a partnership formed in Neenah in 1872 for the purpose of producing rag newsprint. Since that time it has played an important part in the development of paper and cellulose products.

It was among the first to experiment with and utilize wood fibers as a raw material for the production of paper and was responsible for the creation of creped cellulose, the base material for today's large family of disposable sanitary paper products.

Kimberly and Darblay voiced optimism with respect to the future potential in France of Societe Sopalin in the field of consumer products made from cellulose wadding and stationary paper products.

Woman Fined for Leaving Accident

Neenah — Mrs. Richard Capelle, Jr., 1025 1/2 Henry street, pleaded guilty of leaving the scene of an accident and was fined $15 and costs by Police Justice E. P. Arpin Monday. She was arrested after her car struck a parked car owned by Raymond L. Zanto, 804 Pacific street, Menasha, while it was parked on E. Wisconsin avenue at 7:20 p.m. Sunday.

She told police she did not think the other car had been damaged. The left front fender of the Zanto car was damaged.

Richard D. Knorr, 26, route 2, Menasha, paid a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty of speeding 42 miles an hour on First street. He was arrested at 12:30 a.m. Monday.

Zone Changes Approved

Study Request for John, South River Street Corner

One rezoning request was approved and another held for further study by the city planning commission Monday.

Four parcels of land bounded approximately by Kamps avenue and Pershing road and by Nicholas street and the So line right-of-way were recommended rezoned from industrial to single, 2-family and multiple family lots. There would be 262 separate lots.

The tentative plat for the property will not be submitted until after the zone change is approved by the council and a public hearing has been held. As it stands now, however, the tentative plat would contain 180 single-family and 28 2-family lots owned by Walter Klitzke; 21 2-family and 14 single-family lots owned by Chris Vandenberg; 21 multiple-family lots owned by Kenneth Hooymann; and 4 multiple-family lots owned by H. J. Slezak.

Business Corner

The other zone change involves the grocery store and gasoline station property across from Richmond school on E. South River street. Conrad Grishaber, store owner, has asked to have the corner rezoned from local business to commercial zone, permitting him to expand his store building beyond the setback requirements of local business zoning.

Ald. Kenneth Priebe asked to withhold a recommendation until the city engineer determines how much property would be needed to round off the corner and whether the city owns some of the land already. Priebe also recommended rezoning all of the Grishaber property, which extends 270 feet west on E. South River street.

Two county zone changes also were approved and another was held for study.

Heimann Plat

The 32-lot Heimann plat just north of Highway 41 in the town of Grand Chute was expanded, adding 28 lots. The additional lots are north of the present plat.

A zone change involving 50 acres on N. Meade street, bounded on the north by the new Highway 41, was held until commissioners learn why Harold Heckel, the owner, wants it rezoned from commercial district to light industry.

Changing a 250-foot wide strip on the corner of Highway 55 and Calumet street from an agricultural to a commercial zone received no opposition. Owners Henry J. Haen and Michael N. Buchinger already have had another portion of the property rezoned.

5 Men Fined $100 Each for Topsy Driving

One Man Involved In Accident on N. Rankin Street

Five men have been fined $100 each and will lose their drivers' licenses for one year after pleading guilty of drunken driving.

Fined were Bernard E. Wiaters, 28, route 2, Weyauwega; Fred F. Miller, 74, route 2, Wauwau; William J. Ollila, 25, of 204 W. Prospect avenue; Nester A. Reitz, 59, route 1, Black Creek; and Marshall F. Zuleger, 24, route 1, Black Creek.

Wiaters was arrested by Wauwau police at 6:30 p.m. Sunday after he was noted driving erratically on Washington street. He tested .155 on the breathalyzer.

Ollila was arrested Sunday evening after his car struck a parked car, knocking it 15 feet forward into a tree, continuing for 50 feet and swiped a tree and then traveled 44 feet, coming to a stop near the porch of a home at 224 N. Rankin street. Ollila tested .22 on the drunkometer.

Reitz was arrested at 11:30 p.m. Saturday after he met County Patrolman Calvin Spicer's car and shined a spotlight in the patrolman's face. Spicer followed Reitz and noticed him ignore a stop sign on Highway 47 in the town of Cicero. He tested .21 on the drunkometer. A charge of failure to have a driver's license against Reitz was adjudged for six weeks.

Zuleger was arrested shortly after 1 a.m. Saturday after a county patrolman noted him driving erratically and through a stop sign at County Trunk S and C. He tested .32 on the drunkometer.

College Ave. Bridge Tests Successful

State tests of concrete so far have proved the College avenue high bridge safe for traffic, but the tests were incomplete at noon, Mayor Clarence Mitchell reported today.

The sidewalk concrete capsules were broken at Oshkosh Monday and withstood pressures up to 3,000 pounds per square inch, he said.

An impact hammer test also proved successful, he reported.

Dedication Plans

Mitchell, Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski and Ald. Roy Pointer, chairman of the street and sanitation committee, will meet sometime this afternoon to plan when and how to open the $1 million bridge to traffic.

Mitchell did not know whether the bridge would be opened Wednesday, with a dedication to be held later, or whether a formal dedication and the bridge opening would be held simultaneously.

Monday, Mitchell said he did not believe an adequate dedication could be planned on such short notice. He added that he wants the bridge opened as soon as possible.

See Slight Easing of Tight Money

But Mortgage Men Predict No Drop In Interest Rates

The shortage of mortgage funds that has afflicted housing for the past six months is expected to ease, according to a magazine of the housing industry. In an exclusive article in the December issue, the magazine says that most—but not all—mortgage men are forecasting more money for housing after Jan. 1.

One expert quoted, Vice President Raymond T. O'Keefe, of giant Chase Manhattan bank, said:

"It seems entirely possible that we might be close to the ultimate peak in interest rates for the current phase of the business cycle."

But none of the mortgage men expected that the easing would bring lower interest rates, in spite of growing evidence that prospective homebuyers were shying away from today's rates. One mortgage banker noted:

"It's not so much the psychology of tight money as it is the psychology of expensive money that had discouraged buyers. They know the difference between 5 1/2 per cent and 6 1/2 per cent and they aren't ready to pay it."

The magazine's most optimistic forecast: There will be nearly as much mortgage money available in 1960 as in 1959—enough to finance another big year if demand for houses is strong.

Mrs. Kress Wills $100,000 Fund For Scholarships

A $100,000 scholarship legacy has been received by the Institute of Paper Chemistry from the estate of Mrs. Marion Bessie Kress in memory of her husband, Oscar Kress. The scholarship fund will be called the Oscar Kress Foundation. Kress was the brother of Dr. Otto Kress, technical director of the institute from 1929 until his retirement in 1948.

Dr. Kress, now of Naples, Fla., was the first scientific staff member of the institute.

Reports Theft of Wallet From Purse

Oshkosh — Mrs. William Brandt, 420 S. Jefferson street, Appleton, reported to the sheriff's department early Monday that a wallet was taken from her purse while she was dancing at a rural Menasha tavern. She said the wallet contained $100 and her social security card.

Holiday Schedule

School Board Members Hit Released Time for Working

Three school board members Monday night registered opposition to releasing

Mrs. Davis Dr. McLeod students from high school to work in stores during the Christmas rush.

"No wonder children's values are all mixed up," Mrs. Myrl N. Davis, board member, said. "We tell them, in effect, clerking is more important than going to school."

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann said many parents would not agree with that point of view.

Deer Hunting

Board member Dr. A. Neil McLeod maintained the situation is similar to requests to excuse students for deer hunting. "I think you're dealing with this problem realistically. You say, No." Board Sec. Franklin Nehs agreed with McLeod.

The criticism came during discussion of a relatively routine item on the agenda—adopting the holiday schedule for 1960-1961.

The proposed recesses included two weeks for Christmas, beginning Saturday, Dec. 24, and ending Sunday, Jan. 8. Supt. Mann said teachers wanted the schedule that way because it would give them three weekends off for traveling.

Rework Schedule

Mrs. Davis said the schedule should be designed for the benefit of the students, giving them a chance to work before the holidays. It is wrong to release students from school to earn money, she declared. "When a child is in school, that's his business." Instead, vacations should be planned to give children an opportunity to work and earn money, she added.

Board members asked Mann to have the schedule reworked, starting Christmas vacation either a full week before the holiday or sometime during the preceding week. Classes then could resume Jan. 2, they said.

There was no opposition to the rest of the schedule, setting the first day of class as Sept. 7 and the last day of class as June 9. There would be a total of 180 days of classes, not including legal holidays. Teachers would be on duty 190 days, including several days of orientation and conventions.

Easter recess would be from March 30 to April 3.

Brown County Arena Has $50,000 Deficit

Golf Course Shows Profit in Audit Report to Board Finance Committee

Green Bay — The Veterans Memorial arena, as of Aug. 31, had recorded a net operating deficit of $50,306. The county golf course, on Sept. 30, had made a net operating profit for 1959 of $8,818 but had $8,819 to recover for 1958 deficit.

These totals were provided to the county board finance committee in a report of the State Department of Audit, which as a matter of routine checks books of county departments and makes accounting suggestions. The arena audit covered the period between June 21, 1955, and last Aug. 31 including operations after the arena opening on Nov. 11, 1958. The golf course audit covered the period from Sept. 21, 1955, to last Sept. 30.

The golf course did not open until Aug. 1, 1958, which resulted in the contrast of year-end net revenue for 1958 of $14,065 compared with all-year operating and maintenance expenditures for 1959 of $21,702. As of Sept. 30, the 1959 season showed income of $38,769 against expenditures of $29,951, an operating profit of $8,818. The audit, thus, does not include October and November operations of this golfing season.

Annual Payments

The operating reports do not include annual payments of principle and interest on county bond issues which financed the arena and golf course but do include allowances for depreciation. This year, for example, the county will pay $141,737 in principle and interest on arena bonds.

The arena in 1958 received a net of $20,345 from the ice show, the audit said. The show grossed $95,057. The show's share and federal taxes totaled $60,488. The county share was $34,563, and its expenses were $14,218, leaving a profit of $20,345.

The audit said the arena net on rentals and its promotions between Nov. 11, 1958, and last Aug. 31 was $42,280. Its net revenues from concession sales for this period was $16,263. Expenditures during this period were $97,054, and the loss before allowance for depreciation was $47,649.

The audit figured depreciation at $44,933, which boosted the total loss to $92,582. Against this, the audit placed a net 1959 tax appropriation of $7,506 and budget transfers of $42,276, which left the $50,306 operating deficit as reported by the audit.

Public skating, $5,437; hockey, $2,135 from gross rent of $4,805; Harlem Globetrotters basketball, $805; sports show, $2,242; roller derby, $1,168; national curling tournament,

Home show, $1,288; wholesalers' show, $1,000; circus, $1,030; and Catholic state basketball tournament $1,073.

A water show which ran last spring lost $4,562 for the county.

The balance sheet included with the audit placed the arena assets at $2,035,773, including $1,477,700 for the building, $322,610 for equipment, $143,131 for land, and $66,740 in furniture and furnishings. Liabilities included $1,930,088 on a construction bond issue and budget transfers.

The 1959 county budget provided an arena operating appropriation of $183,756. It estimated gross revenues at $176,250. The 1960 county budget put both operations and income at $239,472.

Seek Bids to Print 500 City Bonds of $1,000 Denomination

The city is seeking informal bids from local printing companies to furnish 500 bond forms of $1,000 denomination and accompanied by 10 attached coupons each.

City Clerk Broehm was instructed to seek the bids after he reported Badger Printing company, which printed the last batch of bonds some years ago, would do the job again for $152.

Choral Group Sings At Three Places

The Caroliers, a singing group organized 19 years ago, began its 1959 season Sunday by singing at Outagamie county hospital, the City home and St. Elizabeth hospital.

There are 13 voices in the group and three of the members, Karel Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Knoke were in the original organization. The Caroliers began singing on street corners but were asked to visit area institutions.

Sunday, Dec. 20, the group will sing at Appleton Memorial hospital and Riverview sanatorium.

Christ Is Light of Christmas, Pastor Says

Savior's Birth Frees Man From Darkness of Sin

Christmas is the festival of light—the light of Jesus Christ freeing man from sin — and should be celebrated with this in mind, the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor of Mt. Olive Evangelical Lutheran church, said in his sermon Sunday.

Centuries ago barbarous tribes in northern Europe held winter celebrations in honor of the return of the sun, which, after the winter solstice, was beginning to turn northward again, the pastor said. Today the streets and shopwindows of cities are illuminated with electric bulbs.

"The true light of Christmas, unknown to many people is not this artificial light of Christmas, but is Jesus Christ, the Savior, who was born in Bethlehem."

"Of this the prophet Isaiah writes, 'The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them the light has shined.' The pastor also quoted St. John 9:5, 'As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world'."

Darkness of Sin

"Jesus would have us know that without Him Christmas is valueless. It is dark, without any light for the soul. With Him, all is light; all is bright," the Rev. Mr. Ziesemer said.

"Sin, the transgression of God's law, has darkened the heart of man," he said. The shining holiness which was man's at creation was lost when Adam and Eve fell into sin, he added.

"Our daily newspapers, magazines and the pages of history show what man is. They show his cruelty, selfishness, deceitfulness, lasciviousness, love of money, pride, his fair words and his foul deeds."

Savior Necessary

The pastor said many people believe man himself can enlighten the world through education, a decent living and decent amusement.

"But have we not seen it, and see it today, how prosperity and crime may well go hand in hand?"

The way out of the darkness is through Christ as the light of the world, the Rev. Mr. Ziesemer said.

"In spirit, go to Bethlehem, gaze into the manger. There lies the Christ-child, the Savior, born for us."

"Behold the burst of heavenly light when the angel said to the shepherds on the fields of Bethlehem, 'Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, the Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

"Indeed, with Christ all is light, all is bright," the pastor concluded.

Egypt, Arab World in Race Between Famine, Power of Present Regimes

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

By chance, and not because I had any foreknowledge of the president's plans, my wife and I have just spent a month in the general area which the president is now visiting. We went out by way of Rome to Cairo, from there to Bombay and New Delhi, then on to Tehran, returning home by way of London.

Deciding where to go and where not to go, our time and energy being limited, was not easy. But it seemed to me that for the purpose of trying to understand what is what, the three key countries in the region were Egypt, India and Iran. I chose Egypt because it is the most powerful of the Arab states and because it is the moral and intellectual center of the Arab community; India because it is possible by persuasion and in freedom to achieve for large masses of people a tolerable standard of life and Iran because it is so sensitive a spot in the cold war.

In Egypt the question to which I tried to find the answer was where in the Nasser regime is the center of its interest. Is it the conflict with Israel? Is it the leadership of the Arab movement, and the realization of the idea of Pan-Arab unity extending from Morocco to the Persian gulf? Or is it the internal development of Egypt?

We were in Egypt for about ten days and we talked at some length with President Nasser, with the leading members of his government who deal with foreign policy and with the internal economy. We talked also with Egyptian newspapermen and with some of the foreign diplomats. We paid a visit to the Suez canal and to the site of the high dam which the Russians are going to build at Aswan. At the end I felt reasonably certain that the center of political gravity is the internal condition of the end of our interviews, having learned early in the day that, with some exceptions, Israel is a subject which, if you want realities and not stereotyped rhetoric, must be approached indirectly by way of other subjects and interests.

As between Egypt and Israel the true situation is, as at so many other points of conflict in the world, one where there can be neither peace nor war. There cannot be peace because no Arab statesman, beginning with President Nasser himself, can afford to make a settlement which recognizes the existence of Israel. Almost certainly, if he tried to do that, he would be assassinated.

Why? Not because the Egyptian nation as such has any mortal conflict of interest with Israel, but because the convulsion caused in Palestine by the creation of Israel has filled the Arab world with desperate and fanatical men. They have great influence with public opinion. In fact they dominate it. It is as impossible for an Arab to be pro-Israel as for a Catholic cardinal to be a communist. In Egypt and among Arab states near Israel a permanent state of hostility to Israel is for politicians a necessity. They may think what they like. But in public they must be irreconcilable.

Israel and Egypt

I shall now say what led me to this conclusion. And I shall begin with the relations between Egypt and Israel. This is the topic which everyone wanted to talk about. But I always kept the subject for Kurt G. Appert, San Carlos, Calif., 48-year-old head of an electronics firm before he sold out to General Telephone and Electronics company, found a pre-Christmas surprise in his driveway—a $17,000 limousine. The vehicle was a gift from some 350 associates and employees to whom Appert gave a million and a half dollars worth of stock General Telephone paid him in the deal.

Israel Permanent

At the same time, it is well understood in Egypt that the re-conquest of Israeli-Palestine is quite impossible. While there can be no thought of accepting and recognizing Israel, in any private and serious discussion it is acknowledged that it would be foolish to toy with the idea of re-conquests by force of arms. The two unhappy wars with Israel have not been forgotten and the military power of Israel is certainly not underrated.

Indeed, I came away convinced that there is a serious fear of military aggression by Israel. I inquired about it among the responsible leaders. They know from the Sinai campaign of 1956 that the Israeli army is greatly superior to that of all the surrounding Arab states combined. In short, Israel is able to commit aggression and expand its territory. The Egyptians do not feel that there exists in fact a balance of power in their region of the world. Remembering the British and French action at Suez in 1956, and being deeply suspicious of the intentions of the United States, the Egyptians do not rule out the possibility that the west might unleash Israel and egg it on.

Combined with this, they watch the immigration into Israel, and they tell themselves that as the population continues to grow, the state of Israel is bound to expand its territory. They cannot imagine how the present territory of Israel can support all the Israelis Ben-Gurion is calling in.

Aggression Certain

This is significant because they believe it and will, therefore, seek arms from the Soviet Union or from anyone else. It is significant also because of what it reveals about their own ways of thinking. The present regime in Egypt is the product of a revolutionary coup by young officers of the army. When they take it for granted that Israel is bound to commit aggression in order to expand its territory, they regard this as the natural thing for any country to do if it cannot feed and support adequately its population. This is in fact what they would think of doing if they found their own internal condition intolerable. That is why they are looking for opportunities and possibilities for themselves in the oil producing states of the Persian gulf and in Libya.

I asked why Israel could not support its growing population by intensive cultivation and by industrialization. The answer was that Israel is not a viable state, that it has no great natural sources of wealth, that in fact it is a subsidized state and that in the long run the support from outside will taper off and the experiment will fail.

Relying on this analysis, they contend, as I have said, that Israel must contemplate aggression. But they conclude also, when they are in the mood to believe, that the great powers would prevent such aggression, that Israel will lose its preponderance in that part of the world, and will become compelled to appease its neighbors by the surrender of some of its territory.

Stalemate Continues

This double conclusion, one that Israel will make war, the other that Israel will fail and wither, reflects the existing stalemate. When the Egyptians think of Israel's power to commit aggression, they are certain that there can be no peace. When they think of their own incapacity to conquer Israel, they take consolation in the thought that in the long run Israel will be a failure.

This stalemate cannot, so far as I can see, be resolved by the Israelis, by the Egyptians, or by the great powers singly or collectively. All that can be done is to make the hostility more or less virulent.

It is often said that here the crucial question is the solution, or at least an alleviation, of the problem of the Palestinian refugees. Undoubtedly this is true. This is where something must and where something can be done to reduce the tension.

Arab Action

But, for what it is worth, my view is that what can be done for the refugees will depend in the main not only on the money and the energy which the world is willing to invest, but also, primarily, on the internal condition of the Arab states, and particularly of Egypt. The refugee problem depends in the last analysis on the willingness of Egypt and the other Arab states to let it be solved. The willingness to do this will be greatly affected by the progress President Nasser makes in the development of the Egyptian economy.

This brings me back to the opening thesis of this report—that the center of gravity is the condition of life within Egypt. The officers who overthrew the king in 1952 were in revolt against the corruption and the backwardness of the Egyptian state, against the British occupation, against the humiliating incompetence shown in the first war with Israel. They took over a backward and wretched government, and they had neither the resources nor the know-how to make any substantial improvement in the low standard of life of the mass of the people. Lacking substantial means, they lived politically on the intangibles of Arab hopes and Arab fears and Arab resentments against all foreigners, including particularly the British and the Israelis.

In all sorts of ways in my talks in Egypt I was led to believe, in fact several times I was told, that the mechanism of Egyptian politics is at bottom controlled by whether the masses can be fed with real food or must be fed with slogans and ideologies. In fact, there is an unembarrassed acceptance of the classic formula which is to stir up trouble abroad when there is trouble at home.

Power Via Success

The young officers who now rule Egypt are led by men who are quite certain that they must succeed in Egypt if they are to stay in power. And they know that in the long run they cannot expect the people to live on slogans and ideologies. They are now entering that period after every revolution when they must produce tangible results. Beginning with President Nasser and the inner circle of his lieutenants, the present regime seems to me attractive, intelligent, and genuinely concerned with the destiny of the country. They will resort to hesitatingly and ruthlessly to the slogans and the ideologies and the war cries if they

Thieves Take $9 From Bakery, Leave Change

Thieves took $9 in bills and left $14 in change in a cash drawer at Bake-Rite Baking company, 1717 W. College avenue, sometime Sunday, police have reported.

Little evidence of forced entry was found, although the cash box had been pried open, police said. About $20 was taken last month from the bakery in the same manner.

live to quiet the populace. But their hearts are, I believe, in raising Egypt out of its immemorial poverty and misery.

This will no. be easy to do, what with the natural poverty of the country, the relentless growth of the population, the shortage of capital, the backwardness of the peasants, and the shortage of trained technicians and administrators. The crucial problem is illustrated by the high dam at Aswan which the Russians are building for Egypt. It will be one of the greatest engineering works in the world. When it is completed 10 or 15 years hence, it will bring several million acres of desert land into cultivation. But by that time, so I was told, the population of Egypt will have grown by so many millions that the new land will just about feed the new people.

In theory, the way to break this vicious circle is by effective birth control and by very large infusions of capital. But the capital is not available on an adequate scale and birth control, although it is approved and promoted by the government, is not effective. There are, therefore, troubled times ahead for Egypt, and neither the Russians nor we nor the two of us combined can open up a sure road to the future for the Egyptian nation.

But we are bound to try, and in trying we shall do well, I think, to be as friendly and as helpful as we can in the hope that Nasser will be successful.

Chilton Meeting

County Fair Group Elects New Board

Chilton — An enlarged board of directors has been named by the Calumet County Fair association as constitutional changes went into effect at its annual meeting.

One of the changes allows a board membership of 21 instead of 19 and provides for the annual election of seven to 3-year terms. An entirely new board was elected.

The board also was granted the power to elect officers. In the past, association officers were elected by the stockholders from a slate of candidates prepared by a nominating committee.

To set up its new board of directors, three groups, each composed of seven persons were elected to respective terms of one, two and three years.

3-Year Terms
Serving 3-year terms will be Frank Hass, Carl Peik, Theodore Christoph, Earl Lintner, Albert Hillmann, Herb Goeldi and Armin Schwalenberg.

The 2-year term electees are Robert Hemauer, Ross Hacker, Herbert Harder, Oscar Moehrke, Emil Steiner, Martin Bankert and Hillard Brantmeier.

The following will serve 1-year terms:
Ed Seybold, Orrin Meyer, Elmer Pilling, Russell Gasch, Melvin Steiner, Henry Heilmann and Edgar Steinbach.

Last year's officers were all reelected by unanimous vote of the board. They are, Oscar Moehrke, president; Martin Bankert, vice president; Herbert Goeldi, treasurer, and Herbert Harder, secretary.

Record Premiums
An all-time high of $4,629 was paid out in premiums this year, Herbert Harder, secretary, announced during the financial report. This figure was an increase of about $800 over the 1938 fair. About $3,620 of this total is paid by the state.

Gate receipts, including parking, netted $4,581; space and privileges including rides and shows, $3,081, grandstand admission, $1,902, and county aid amounted to $2,000.

The association is in good financial condition, Harder said. It has approximately $800 to work with this year. The 1938 fair was operated at a loss to the association of $300.

4,800 Exhibits
About 4,800 exhibits were entered in the fair last year.

Education Board Raises Coverage On Chilton School

Official Says Replacement Cost Would be $1½ Million for Building

Chilton — Insurance on the Chilton Public school building and its contents dominated much of the discussion by members of the board of education Monday before they decided to raise the coverage on the plant to $1 million.

The figure was reached after A. W. Gordon, superintendent, told board members that according to a contractor's estimate, it would cost $1½ million to replace the present structure. It is presently insured at $800,000 with an additional $55,000 insurance on its contents.

Under the 80 per cent co-insurance setup, the rate cost of the entire coverage approved by the board, would be $266 annually. However, the school pays only 50 per cent of the state fund premium leaving an actual cost of $133 per year.

Language Laboratory
A dealer's representative demonstrated a modern, low cost, foreign language laboratory. The system demonstrated consisted of a cart-ridge loaded magnetic tape recorder, a control board, and ten "voice-flectors." This is a trade name for portable speaker-microphone units designed to offer some of the advantages of the individual language laboratory booths at a fraction of the cost.

The system demonstrated was priced at $996. The board took no action.

The report of the physical fitness test recently conducted in all of the school's physical education classes showed the school above the national average overall. In only one of the individual exercises, the pull-up, did it fall below the national average.

Lacked Facilities
This was attributed to the lack of a horizontal bar in the gymnastic equipment. Facilities to have one installed are now being arranged for.

Three candidates for a school bus driving post, created by a driver's resignation, were considered from a list of eight.

It was decided that bus storage at the fairgrounds arena during the winter months would be impractical since city crews could not guarantee snow removal at the specific hours demanded for prompt student transportation.

Grade Teachers
Grade teachers were allotted 20 cents per student for candy and refreshments at the Christmas parties. Last year the practice cost about $50, Gordon said.

Troops Assigned to Various Sections Of City for Traditional Christmas Event

Chilton — Girl Scouts from all Brownie and Intermediate troops will serenade the city with traditional Christmas Carols Friday evening.

Each troop has been assigned a section of the city and will begin singing about 6:30 p. m. Troops will meet at the community tree at Main and Madison streets for a community sing at 7:30 p. m.

The Scouts will proceed to the city hall at 7:50 p. m. for their annual carolling party which will conclude at 8:30 p. m.

Parents have been asked to arrange to pick up the younger children at city hall immediately after the carolling.

Song Leader
Mrs. Quentin Moeschberger will serve as song leader. Mrs. Clarence Bennin, Mrs. L. J. Friedrichs and Mrs. John Nuss are in charge of refreshments.

Senior Scouts of Troops 8 and 3 are making separate plans for carolling at Calumet Memorial hospital next week. Members of Troop 8 have completed tray favors to be used at the hospital during the holiday season.

Plans are in progress for the annual mother-daughter banquet which will tentatively be held Feb. 11 at the St. Mary church hall with Mrs. J. P. Freiburger as general chairman.

Registration figures recently tabulated show 146 girls enrolled in the scouting program. Some 40 adults are assisting with the program. Recent donations to the community committee include $50 from the Chilton Woman's club and $10 for Judge and Mrs. Helmut F. Arps.

Proposals on 2 School Buses Up for Action

New London — The board of education will review proposals tonight to replace the two school buses which were damaged in accidents.

The board has alternatives to buy a used bus, buy a new body for one of the damaged buses and to repair the chassis of one of the buses.

The board also has received a proposal for settlement by the insurance company for the bus accident on Highway 10, west of Readfield, early in the fall.

Board members will be asked to vacate part of the Allen estate property to the city for the extension of Pine street to the Werner-Allen road. Other discussions will be on teachers' contracts for the next school year, telephone charges, the state life insurance plan, budget disbursements and a resolution to transfer funds in the 1959 budget to use the surpluses to cover the deficits in various departments.

Educators to Meet

Waupaca — George Barber, county superintendent of schools, will attend a dinner meeting of the Wisconsin Education association Wednesday at Stevens Point where federal school legislation will be discussed.

Plans Made For Party at Homestead

New Holstein — A full slate of activities has been included in the final plans for the annual Christmas tree trimming party at Calumet Homestead Dec. 19.

Each guest will receive a personalized invitation to attend. Entertainment will begin at 2 p. m. and will include music, carols, games and prizes.

Trimming of the large trees in each of the four lobbies will be completed by the staff, auxiliary members and the more active residents. Other homesteaders will decorate small trees for infirm and bed patients. Refreshments will be served in the dining room at 3 p. m.

During the evening, the New Holstein Men's chorus, under the direction of Edgar Thiessen, will present a program of carols.

The auxiliary board of directors is in charge of the program.

Plans for Annual Meeting Of Hospital Auxiliary Set

Chilton — Plans for the annual meeting of the Calumet Memorial hospital auxiliary at 8 p. m. Jan. 13 at city hall were completed at a meeting of the auxiliary's executive board Saturday.

Officers to be elected for 2-year terms include, president, recording secretary and treasurer. Officers whose terms will carry over until 1961 include, first vice president, second vice president, and corresponding secretary.

Chairman of standing committees will be appointed for 2-year terms by the new president, with the approval of the executive board. New terms will begin in March, 1960.

Credit Auxiliary — Mrs. Dean Connors, chairman of the heart fund drive, reported the auxiliary will be credited with work on the drive since all volunteer workers have been recruited from auxiliary membership. The drive will begin after the first of January.

Program for the annual meeting will include a film on heart fund activities. Roland Miller, county co-ordinator, will speak on civil defense procedures.

A motion was passed to contact the medical staff and hospital administrator on equipment needed for the nursery and maternity wards. Equipment is to cost not more than $266, the amount remaining in the baby alumni fund.

The motion was made in order that the fund, which has been carried in a separate account for almost 18 months, can be closed.

Request Volunteers — It was also voted to pay, before Jan. 1, the second installment of $600 on the auxiliary's $1,200 pledge to the original building indebtedness.

A request was made for volunteers to help with patient feeding from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 4:30 to 6 p. m.

The gift shop committee was authorized to get carpenter's cost estimates for work needed to enlarge the gift shop. Figures are to be available in time for the annual meeting.

Suggestions were made to change the date of the pantry shower from November to April, and to split the smorgasbord and ways and means committees into two separate chairmanships. No action was taken.

Auxiliary Head Makes Inspection

Chilton — Mrs. Earl Mork Neenah, VFW auxiliary Sixth district vice president, conducted her annual inspection of hilton post 3163.

Reports of cancer, Americanism, poppy drive and membership committees were heard. Bertha Kesselring nursery and Christmas Cheer fund at the auxiliary national headquarters were given $5 donations.

The luncheon committee was composed of Mrs. Chester Ensign, Mrs. Elroy Fluhr, Mrs. Jacob Friederichs and Mrs. Donald Fischer.

The next meeting is Jan. 14.

Brotherhood Elects

Seymour — The following members were elected officers at a recent meeting of the Lutheran brotherhood. They are Elmer Mielke, president; Carl Melchert, vice president; Ray Guibrand, secretary; Herman Maass, treasurer and Walter Stern, financial secretary. Clarence Nelson will be in charge of the January meeting.

Slight Dip Reported in Yule Buying

Sales Activity in October, November
Cited as Reason

Better-than-expected October and November retail sales activity has resulted in a slight dip in pre-Christmas buying, Fox Cities merchants reported Monday.

Total business last week dipped 5 per cent below the same week a year ago, most merchants report, although late fall and early Christmas buying kept the entire season mark about 10 per cent ahead of last year.

Many Appleton merchants reported Friday and Saturday as "disappointing days." Merchants in the Fox villages and the Twin Cities, however, reported slightly increased sales. Foggy and wet weather was blamed for the slump in Appleton.

10 Shopping Days

One department store manager said, "We had expected much better business, but it seems we got it earlier. And, there still are ten shopping days until Christmas."

Hard goods purchases were up considerably earlier in the winter, but have leveled off. Soft goods probably will pick up this week and next as people buy the smaller gifts. Merchants assume larger items are purchased early in the buying season.

Toy, drug, clothing and dime stores say their sales ahead of last year, but not shopping.

Boy Scouts Have Court of Honor

Fremont — A court of honor for the Boy Scouts of the Fox and Beaver patrols was held at the village hall. The ceremony included the presentation of awards to leaders.

Other awards were presented to Gail Borchardt, Tenderfoot badge; Tom Smith, George Masaros, Kenneth Abhold and Charles Abhold, Second Class badges; Davey Henschel, and Stanley Masaros, First Class award; Eugene Redemann, Gary Hofberger and Robert Kemper, Star award; and Michael Redemann, Life Scout award.

About 50 other presentations were made to scouts receiving merit badges in about 20 different achievements.

as good as they anticipated. Two weeks ago, sales were up as much as 15 per cent, last week, 10 per cent, while this week some stores report no increase or a decrease.

Good Supplies

Stock supplies are adequate, merchants report. Since business increased dramatically in October and November, they stocked their shelves heavily for the Christmas rush, leaving good stocks of fashionable merchandise available to the last minute shopper.

Furniture and appliance stores, which seldom feel a boom during holiday seasons report business is the same as last year, without any notable increases or decreases. The car market has picked up, so it now is at last year's levels. The furniture market is steady.

Store owners seem confident business still will wind up about 10 per cent ahead of last year's record Christmas shopping.

Busy Rehearsing for a Christmas concert Thursday at Brillion High school are members of the band, Jay and Joel Stradel, Glenn Siebert, Conrad Kopitzke with the instructor, Duwayne Tober.

Dedicate Municipal Auto Parking Ramp

Rev. Van Pelt, Oshkosh Council President
Wield Shears at Sunday Ribbon Cutting

Oshkosh — The only complaint about the new off-street parking ramp at Oshkosh, dedicated Sunday afternoon, was the heating system or lack of one.

More than 300 spectators braved the damp 30-degree weather to watch Rep. William K. Van Pelt, Fond du Lac Republican, and William P. Harford, Oshkosh common council president, wield a pair of gilded shears on the red and green ribbon across the ramp entrance, thereby officially opening the ramp to community usage. It has been in use since Dec. 4.

Parking Studies

Harford told the audience the parking ramp was an immediate result of the work of six citizens who two years ago attended an international off-street parking conference in Milwaukee. Advocated for the last decade, the ramp was preceded by traffic and parking studies which have created a ramp even the most timid will use with confidence, said Harford.

"Streets are for traffic, not storage," Harford went on. "The bulk of perimeter shoppers are newcomers who live on the perimeter. The older residents living on the center of the city still patronize the downtown section. Since it is impossible to modify streets and parking downtown, a ramp is the solution," he concluded.

Theodore C. Widder, Jr., council dedication committee chairman, read congratulatory messages from Col. Willard Rockwell, chairman of the board of Rockwell-Standard corporation; Sens. Alexander Wiley and William Proxmire and Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

No Federal Funds
Both Wiley and Proxmire commended the building of the ramp without the use of federal funds. The ramp, which cost $431,300 exclusive of land and site preparation, ultimately will be paid for from citywide parking meter income on a planned amortization basis.

Before assisting Harford with the ribbon-cutting, Van Pelt told the future ramp users seated on benches on the gentle slopes that they were to be commended on the foresight of community planning by council members and citizens who elected them.

"It is time we stop living beyond our collective means and exercise some self-discipline. We are tired of having worthwhile programs, such as the interstate highway program, adopted without tax legislation to pay for it. If the project is good, we must face up to the responsibilities," concluded Van Pelt.

Obscenity Law In Los Angeles Ruled Invalid

Washington — The supreme court today ruled unconstitutional a Los Angeles ordinance that provides criminal penalties for possession of an obscene book in any place of business where books are kept for sale.

Justice Brennan wrote the court's main opinion. Justice Harlan in a separate opinion concurred in part and dissented in part. Separate opinions concurring with the majority were written by Justices Black, Frankfurter and Douglas.

Den Chief Warrants Awarded to 5 Scouts

Seymour — A Den Chief Warrant, certificate of recognition of appointment to a position of leadership, were awarded to Larry Reed, Kenneth Kraft, Roger Runroe, Danny Wendt and Dick Farley at a December Cub Scout Pack meeting.

Other awards went to Danny Dopkins and Tony Amob, bobcat; Ronnie Mills and Mark Hillegas, bear; Brian Leisch, wolf; David Haas, Douglas Reed, lion, and Paul Farley, deniers bar. The webelos badge, highest award in Cub scouting, was given Douglas Reed by his mother Mrs. Tom Reed.

Aesop's Fables was the theme used for the month. Each den presented a skit. Lunch was served by the mothers of Den Four.

Dividend for Credit Union

1 Per Cent Hike
Over Last Year at
New London Firm

New London — Directors of the Curtis Employees credit union voted to pay shareholders a 4 per cent dividend for the 6-month period ending Dec. 1.

Steady loan demands and increased share sales prompted the 1 per cent increase over the previous years.

Plans for the annual meeting will be completed during a meeting of the board Jan. 7 at the Franklin house. The sixth annual shareholders meeting will be held Feb. 6 at the American Legion clubhouse.

Members of the board are Harmon Byrum, president; Gerald Schoenrock, vice president; Arthur Spoehr, treasurer; John Amadore, assistant treasurer; Richard Mathewson, secretary and Robert Fuhrmann and Dave Wroblewski.

Members of the credit committee are A. J. Huettner, chairman, Clarence Roloff and Ray Meshnick. Fuhrmann, chairman, Amadore, Wroblewski, Carl Suehs, Wilfred Cornell and Bernice Pichert are members of the examining committee.

Sheridan Program

Sheridan — The Sheridan school Christmas program will be staged by Mrs. Florence Woolsey at 8 p.m. Monday at the school with the complete 28-pupil enrollment taking part.

Probation of 1 Year Given Mrs. Crosby

Menasha Woman
Convicted Sept. 1
On Weapon Charge

Oshkosh — Mrs. Wesley (Patricia) Crosby, 18, 644 Paris street, Menasha, has been placed on probation for one year to the state department of public welfare by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger.

Mrs. Crosby pleaded guilty Sept. 1 to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. The night before, she fired a .22-cal. revolver in the Menasha police station while policemen were trying to wrest it from her hand.

Judge Luchsinger postponed sentence indefinitely after warning Mrs. Crosby to watch her future behavior.

She and her two children live with her parents. She and her husband are separated.

Mrs. Crosby was showing the weapon to friends in a Chute street tavern Aug. 31. The manager called police, but she left before they arrived. On the street, police asked her to produce the weapon. She refused. The police took her to the station to await search by a matron. When Mrs. Crosby pulled the weapon from her shorts, the police lunged for it.

Royalton Bar Keeper Bound Over on Charge Of Serving to Minors

Waupaca — Lester Thayer, 48, Royalton, was bound over to county court Monday on charges of selling beer to a minor and allowing a minor to loiter at his tavern Nov. 21.

Thayer is the owner of Les and Tres tavern at Royalton. He pleaded innocent at arraignment and was bound over to the higher court after preliminary hearing before Justice George Whalen. Bond was continued at $500.

The tavern owner was charged after a sheriff's department investigation of juveniles involved in a traffic accident.

Driver Fined $20

Menasha — Paul Herter, 21, 382 Ahnaip street, involved in a 3-car accident early Saturday, was fined $20 and costs by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales Monday for inattentive driving. The charge was amended from one of driving too fast for conditions. Herter pleaded guilty. The accident was at Third and Racine streets.

Parents Night At Reedsville Game Thursday

Reedsville — Thursday the annual parents' night will be held at Reedsville High school gymnasium. All parents of the A and B team basketball squad, along with the parents of the coaches, managers and cheerleaders will be guests of the Pep club. Reedsville will play host to the Hortonville Polar Bears on that night.

Parents will be introduced at half time by the president of the Pep club, Miss Shirley Zeller. Halftime entertainment will also be offered.

Refreshments will be served to the guests following the varsity game.

Man Pleads Innocent Of Drunken Driving

Oshkosh — Thomas P. Dunn, 46, of 416 Grand street, Oshkosh, in municipal court Monday pleaded innocent to a drunken driving charge. Judge S. J. Luchsinger set Dunn's next appearance for Jan. 15 after he waived a jury trial.

Dunn was arrested by a way 41 in the town of Neenah state highway patrolman at nah.

Fire Destroys 5-Room Home

Raymond J. Hephner
Residence Burns
In Rural Chilton

Chilton — A blaze, which largely contained itself between walls and false ceilings, virtually destroyed the 5-room frame home of Raymond J. Hephner, route 4, Chilton, Monday evening.

Firemen had difficulty locating the source of the fire which billowed smoke and charred both the interior and exterior walls.

Six Hephner children, ranging in age from 12 years to a 5-month old infant, were alone at home when the fire was discovered. Michael Hephner, 11, said he heard "popping and crackling between the walls." He summoned the Chilton fire department about 5:30 p.m.

The children's mother was away at work and their father had not yet returned home.

Kris Kringle comes to Krambo's Neenah GRAND OPENING!

Tomorrow at 9 A.M. — 125 E. Forest Ave., Neenah

Santa Claus is coming to town — tomorrow, at 9 A.M. with a sparkling, beautiful new Krambo store, located at 125 E. Forest Avenue, right in the heart of downtown Neenah.

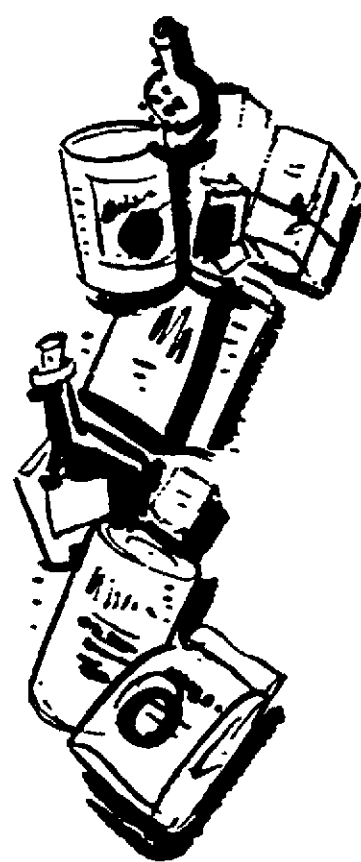

And this is one time Santa will sacrifice his customary "chimney entrance" for Krambo's "magic doors" that open a whole new wonderful world of shopping convenience and ease.

THOUSANDS OF FREE GIFTS

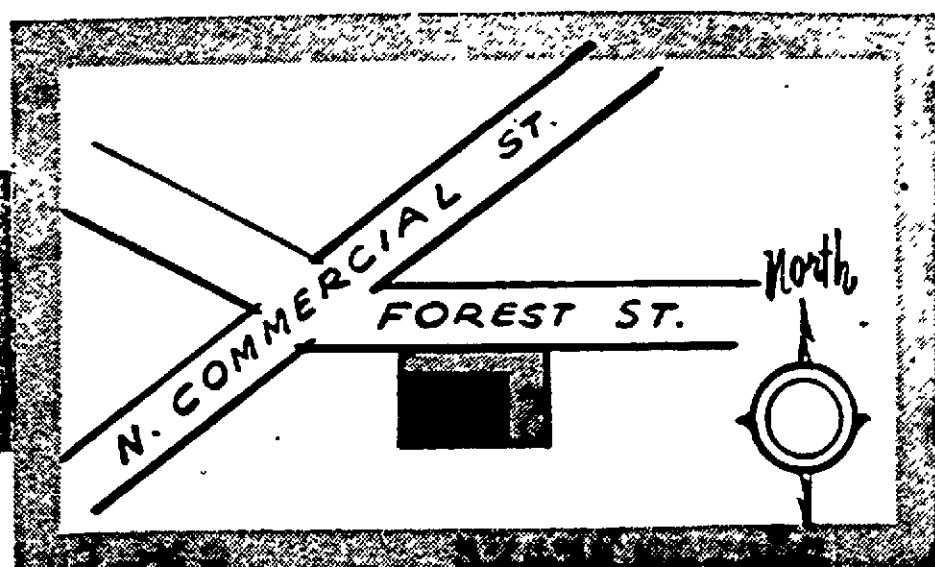

Hey, folks! Bring the family — have the kids meet Santa Claus at Krambo's new Neenah store! Santa will have free candy canes for all the children. And Krambo has free gifts for every shopper!

You've never expected so much in a new store. You will glide down wide, roomy aisles leading from one complete department to another. And during the holiday grand opening you'll celebrate with savings that will certainly come in handy this time of year.

You can be sure Santa will be telling them back at the North Pole about Krambo's 128 frosty feet of frozen foods. And he'll be pleased (so will your family) with the largest, most tempting ice cream section in town. Mmmmm! All your favorite flavors . . . and just in time for the holidays.

For a new shopping experience — and just in time for the holidays visit the new Krambo Neenah store. Largest and finest food store in the Twin Cities. Open daily 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. Monday thru Saturday, open Sundays 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M.

Businessmen Name Nominating Group

Winneconne — Myrle Zimmerman, Edward Ehke and Norbert O'Connor were appointed to the nominating committee at the Thursday meeting of the Winneconne Businessmen's association at St. Mary parish hall.

Donald Konke, recently appointed conservation warden for the area, was introduced, and plans were completed for "First of the Year" night, and a Valentine party.

Charles House, columnist for the Appleton Post-Crescent, told of his canoe trip last fall.

Krambo's Will Open Its new Neenah store Wednesday morning, greatly expanding its Twin Cities facility by providing a store with the latest in equipment and merchandising methods. Located on E. Forest avenue, the new store will replace its present grocery on E. Wisconsin avenue in downtown Neenah.

14,000 Square Feet

New Krambo Supermarket Gives 10 Times Space of Former Store

Neenah — Krambo's new supermarket on E. Forest avenue will give the grocery chain 10 times more sales space than it now has in its E. Wisconsin avenue market in Neenah's downtown.

It will expand also the number of employees from the present eight persons to about 60 fulltime and parttime employees.

The new supermarket, which contains the latest and most modern in equipment, will have about 10,000 feet of sales space and approximately 4,000 square feet of storage space.

There is a partial basement at the east end of the store which provides considerable storage area as well as the boiler room, air conditioning equipment, rest rooms and compressor equipment to serve the refrigerated counters and units.

Merchandise delivered to the store is moved into the basement by a conveyor system. These are unloaded at the east end of the building.

Meat Section
The meat section is across the south end of the building with facilities for storage of machine and automatic weighing both the carcass and butchered items. In addition to the meat cooler is a walk-in freezer for surplus storage and a large meat cutting and wrapping room.

An automatic wrapping machine will take care of stamping the price on the meat to be displayed.

In the northeast corner of the supermarket will be a produce cooler. In the sales area will be a 32-foot long refrigerated case for produce display plus five 10-foot islands.

Other facilities include a refrigerated dairy foods case plus a cooler for the milk and a 24-foot long ice cream storage unit. Besides the 60-foot long meat counter will be 104 feet of frozen food display.

Elm Tree bakery will have a counter near the front doors which will be of the automatic opening type. Six checking stands will handle the flow of customers and their groceries.

Neenah — John Mancil, who has been manager of the Krambo company's store on E. Wisconsin avenue, will be manager of the new and expanded store on E. Forest avenue which will open Wednesday.

Parking Area At Krambo Store Handles 66 Cars

Neenah — Parking facilities for 66 cars are provided at the new Krambo supermarket on E. Forest avenue. Its present downtown location has no ample parking area with customers having to park on the street or in public parking lots off the alley at the rear of the store.

The parking area has been blacktopped, well marked and well lighted for nighttime parking. Parking also is available on E. Forest avenue in front of the store and along E. North Water street at the rear. In addition there is a public parking lot across E. North Water street.

No parcel pickup service will be operated at this store such as is the case at the Krambo Valley Fair store, mainly because the customers go directly to their nearby cars rather than shop in a

Develop New Interests for Easy Break of Silver Cord

Some years ago when children grew up and left home they may have lived only a few blocks away. Today when children marry, they may live anywhere in the United States or go to a foreign country. Freeing yourself of your children's needs should start early so the final break isn't so hard to accept, suggests Viola Hunt, family life specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

If you've gradually helped your children be independent and do things on their own and if you've kept up your own friendships you're well on your way to adjusting to the childless home.

If the children live nearby, it may be easy to tie yourself up too closely with your grandchildren. Of course, you want to enjoy them but, rather than being a permanent babysitter, you'll want to live your own life.

Keeping up your own home or apartment will give you the independence you could never have if you lived with your children. No matter how much you love them you are a different generation and have different ideas.

New Interests

You may adjust to the home empty of children better than your husband, especially if he's retired. You always have your daily tasks around the home to do but he may have few other interests than his work. You may have to encourage him to develop new mutual interests.

Adult classes and study groups are good ways to find new friends and learn new topics. If you plan to travel it may be helpful to study the area you plan to visit.

Try to keep up an interest in your community problems. Some groups study taxation, finance, government and other related topics.

With outside interests of your own, you may not be so concerned that your children don't furnish their home and bring up their youngsters the way you did.

Grange Plans For Saturday Yule Party

Greenville — The South Greenville grange has made plans for its Christmas party for Saturday evening.

A short business meeting will be conducted at 8 p.m. The entertainment committee and youth committee will meet at 1:30 a.m. Saturday to fill Santa's bag. The juveniles met and made gifts for their parents last Saturday.

Stanley Jamison reported Saturday on the meeting of farm organizations with the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Mrs. Truman Shelly, chairman of the community service committee, asked for half aprons and coverall aprons for the Outagamie Golden age home at New London and after Christmas, old greeting cards and magazines.

The state youth cook books will be at the grange next Saturday evening.

Eagles Auxiliary Schedules Party

Menasha — Menasha Eagles auxiliary will hold a Christmas party at Eagles hall Thursday, beginning with a potluck supper at 6 p.m.

A contribution of $104, which was raised at a recent project, will be given to the Muscular Dystrophy foundation.

Musician Union Gives Cello to Neenah School

Earl Nemitz Again Named President of Twin City Local

Neenah — Musicians union local No. 182 of the American Federation of Musicians presented a cello for use in the Neenah school music program to Robert Gruetzman, orchestra director in the school system, at the union's meeting Sunday at the Menasha Legion clubhouse.

Presentation of the cello is in line with the nationwide program of the musicians union to encourage the playing of stringed instruments for symphony and concert orchestras by young people.

Gruetzman expressed his pleasure at receiving the gift and said it would help some youngster who was unable to afford the purchase or rental of a cello.

Officers named by the union, most of whom were re-elected, are Earl Nemitz, president; Richard Remmel, vice president; Spencer Breitner, secretary-treasurer; George Perry, sergeant-at-arms; and Del Ernst and Milton Walters, directors for 3 year terms.

Christmas Party Held by Troop 67

Menasha — Troop 67, a Cub Scout troop for retarded boys, gave its annual Christmas party at the Memorial building Monday evening. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served. The tree ornaments were made by the youngsters as one of their projects for the month.

Ray Sanderfoot is cubmaster of the group. Troop 67, the only one of its kind in the area, meets once a week at the homes of its members. It was chartered in January as a member of the Valley council of Boy Scouts.

Society to Bring Gifts to Meeting

Winneconne — Women's Guild members of St. Paul Lutheran church will bring gifts to the meeting at 1 p.m. Thursday at the church. The gifts are for distribution by the Lutheran institutional missionary.

A potluck dinner will be held and the Christmas program is under the direction of Mrs. Martin Muscavitch and Mrs. Herman Nimmer.

Mission Society At Allenville Has Christmas Play

Allenville — Mrs. Fernon Grimm was hostess to the Women's Missionary society of the Community Baptist church for a 12:30 dinner recently. The program on "Ninety Miles to Bethlehem" was given by Mrs. Louis Jensen, assisted by Mrs. Jacob Schmoker and Mrs. Arthur Reinders.

The story was brought out in pantomime form by the use of dolls. Mrs. Jensen was narrator, Mrs. Schmoker handled the scene changes and Mrs. Reinders was pianist.

Members rolled bandages for the white cross quota and made plans to serve a lunch Jan. 12 for the county Holstein tour. Mrs. Jensen will be chairman for that activity.

The BYF trimmed the Christmas tree in the sanctuary at its meeting Sunday night.

The deacons met Monday evening and the Married Couples club will meet at the church at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Rehearsal for the Christmas program will be at 1:15 p.m. Saturday and the program will be presented at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Junior Historians At Gillingham Meet

Neenah — Reports were given at Friday's meeting of the Gillingham Junior Historians club of Gillingham school by Larry Seeley, Andy Zemlock, Carl Rogers and Judy Zemlock. The group also discussed caroling.

Zenisek Renamed to Committee of WEA

Neenah — Edwin Zenisek of the Neenah High school faculty was reappointed Monday to the public relations committee of the Wisconsin Education association by Donald C. Hoeft, Jefferson, WEA president.

Byfield Named To New Post

To be Administrative Assistant to Poard Chairman at K-C

Neenah — Appointment of Abbot Byfield as administrative assistant to the chairman of board was announced today by John R. Kimberly, chief executive officer and board chairman of Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Byfield has been director of new products, corporate product planning. He began with Kimberly-Clark in 1939 after receiving his master's degree in chemical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In 1941 he was called into the office of scientific research and development, returning in 1945 as one of 22 Wisconsin scientists and engineers who received a government certificate of appreciation.

Since 1945, Byfield's career has encompassed technical research, specialized sales research, staff relationship with Kimberly-Clark manufacturing operations and product development.

He will be succeeded in his present position by William G. Wilson of Neenah.

Granges to Hold Christmas Party

Neenah — The Allenville Subordinate and Juvenile Granges will hold their annual Christmas party at the hall at 8:30 p.m. Friday. Mrs. Warren Hitchcock, lecturer, will be in charge of the program.

Members are to bring cookies for the lunch and also enough extra cookies to make up 100 bags to be given to persons at the county hospital who have no one to remember them at Christmas. Gifts will be exchanged.

Lannon Stone, Aluminum Add To Store's Beauty

Neenah — Lannon stone and aluminum canopy columns combine to add to the attractiveness of the new Kramo store on E. Forest avenue.

The Lannon stone decorates the doorway and surrounds the large plate glass windows at the store's front. Along the north side is a protective canopy for shoppers.

Attractive also is the interior with 3-dimensional colored drawings along the walls above the shelves to indicate the type of food on those shelves.

Lighting is furnished by fluorescent tubes plus individual directed flood lights. Behind the meat display counter is a long mirrored wall. The frozen food display cases also have mirrors at the upper portion of each case.

Shiocton Stops
Xavier High
Quint, 50-45

Johnson, Conradt
Lead Chiefs as Hawk Streak Ends

Shiocton High's Chiefs handed the Appleton Xavier High school Hawks their first basketball loss in school history Monday night, 50-45, in the Xavier gym.

The freshman — sophomore Hawks had recorded five straight victories over 4-year schools, four by 1-sided margins, before running into Shiocton, also a 4-year school. The Chiefs' record now is also 5-1.

Forward John Johnson rifled home 21 points for the winners to pace both clubs in scoring. Forward Earl Conradt added 16 and guard Barry Schwandt 11.

Third Quarter
Four of Conradt's goals came in the third quarter and a total of six buckets were made in the second half as he broke loose for easy baskets against the Xavier press.

Paul Zeegers finished with 16 points for Xavier honors, ten coming in a last-quarter rush. "Chuck" Lueck with 10, was the only other Hawk in double figures.

The lead changed hands early in the game, and Shiocton led, 12-10, at the end of the first quarter. Shiocton outscored its host, 12-4, during the second period for a 24-14 halftime lead, and increased it to 35-24 at the end of the third period.

The closest Xavier could get in the final stanza was five points, Shiocton's victory margin. Shiocton, which played the whole game using just five players, fouled only six times.

Sophs Hold Top
Four Scoring
Spots in Big 10

Chicago —A— Sophomores have taken command in Big Ten basketball circles this season. The four top scorers in the league are rookies with Ohio State's Jerry Lucas leading the way.

Lucas has a total of 130 points in five games for a 26-point average. Iowa's Don Nelson has 98 points in five games.

Terry Dischinger of Purdue is third with 89 points in four games. In fourth place is Wisconsin newcomer Marty Gharrry who has 82 points in five games.

Missouri '5' Tips
Wisconsin, 78-66

Ragged Play, Free Throw
Misses Costly to Badgers

Columbia, Mo.—A fast-moving Missouri five pulled away from Wisconsin in the final minutes Monday night for a 78-66 basketball victory on the 24-point shooting of Joe Scott.

Coach John Erickson saw his Badgers aid the Missouri attack with a series of repeated errors, plus the sudden inability to cash in free throws.

Marty Gharrry led Wisconsin's scoring with 18 points. Jack Ulwelling added 12.

Badgers Fight Back
Missouri held a 44-35 intermission lead, but Wisconsin fought to within two points at 61-59 as the game drew to a close.

Wisconsin outshot Missouri .441 to .345 but the Badgers got off far fewer shots, making 26 of 59 to Missouri's 29 of 84.

The Badgers opened up a 17-8 lead, and appeared to be on the way to their second victory in five starts.

But Wisconsin threw away the ball twice and Scott moved in for baskets both times. The Tigers then scored six points to make it 18-18. The score was tied four more times, the last at 26-26, before Missouri chalked up its halftime lead.

In the last half, the Badgers scored seven straight points to put them in contention at 49-46 but then the team drive started slipping.

Wisconsin came up with giveaways and was charged with traveling. Gharrry was called for charging three times, which voided one basket, and was taken to task for traveling on other occasions.

The Badgers also missed the first free throw in bonus situations five times in a row.

'Determination' Key to Success, Says Vince

Perfectionist Coach
Won't Settle for Less Than Crown

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Green Bay — The Packers' first and last games of this miracle season of 1959 had three things in common:

(1) They won both, beating the Bears, 9-6, in Green Bay Sept. 26 and the 49ers 36-14 in San Francisco Dec. 13.

(2) They scored a safety in each game, and

(3) They were just as determined in the opener as they were in the finisher.

"Determination" That's the simple answer Coach Vince Lombardi had for flabbergasted San Francisco writers when they aimed "how come" questions at him after the win in Kezar stadium.

"The wonderful thing about this team is its determination. We've had it all year long. We play a real determined game. But we're not the Baltimore Colts yet," Lombardi told a knot of reporters.

Grand Tribute
The fact that Lombardi has been able to keep the Packers a determined team through one dozen grueling National Football league games is, of course, a grand tribute to Vince.

Determination and effort — like Green Bay hasn't enjoyed for many seasons — backbowed the club's amazing 7-5 finish. And Lombardi certainly should be rewarded with Player Revolt in NFL?

Dissatisfied Moegle, Owens Hint
At Jumping to New Pro League

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The deeply-entrenched National Football league, seeking to avoid any head-on collision with the embryonic American league in the bidding for top-flight talent, faces the possibility of a player revolt within its own ranks.

The first indication that some of the NFL's players might jump to the rival circuit came Monday when two members of the San Francisco 49ers said they want to check the possibility of switching to the AFL.

First to Announce
Defensive specialist Dick Moegle and end R. C. Owens were the first NFL players to announce any such intentions.

Two other 49ers—Fred Dugan and Jim Riddlon—expressed a desire to play with another club, but not necessarily one in the AFL.

The reason for all four was the same: We're not playing enough, and maybe we can do better elsewhere.

Kersten Scores 25,
But MU '5' Bows

Illinois Posts 89-77 Win;
Kojis, Mangham Foul Out

Champaign, Ill. —A— Don Kojis and Walt Mangham fouled out for Marquette university Monday night, and Illinois tallied an 89-77 basketball victory.

Kojis joined his teammates on the bench with the score at 70-67 for the Illini, and Mangham left the game with the score at 80-76.

And with Marquette's two top players out of the game, the Illini dashed on to secure the victory.

The Illini were off to a quick 6-0 lead in the opening minutes and the Warriors fell behind on two other occasions. But Marquette also had the lead, once at 29-28.

MU fell behind again, but by the time intermission rolled around, the Warriors were out front, 44-41.

Jim Kersten, former Menasha St. Mary prep star, had the greatest night of his 3-season college career. He led both teams in scoring, with 25 points, and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Mangham chipped in with 23 points, and Kojis had 12. John Wessels paced Illinois with 19.

8-Point Lead
Early in the second half, Marquette was off to an 8-point lead, 53-45. The Illini kept moving up, however, and scored seven straight points to put the score at 53-52.

With about 10 minutes left the score was tied at 62-62. Marquette dropped behind, 68-62, until Kojis and Kersten closed it to 70-67.

Then Kojis went out on fouls. Kersten chipped in another five points to put the score at 80-76 when Mangham was told to leave the game.

It was the second defeat in five starts for Marquette and Illinois remained undefeated with a 3-0 record.

Weather

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — It was 9:05 p.m. Monday, and all was momentarily quiet at sprawling Austin Straubel field, swept by a sleeting rain.

Suddenly, out of the night, a huge blue and silver plane dived into view from the west and a thunderous, ear-splitting ovation went up from 7,500 throats with a single voice.

This was the setting as their prideful fans delightedly welcomed home the swashbuckling 1959 Packers, most successful to represent the National Football league's smallest city in the last 14 years — a true cinderella team that wiped out the stigma of a 1-10-1 record in 1958, with a spectacular 7-5 comeback.

For the weather — beaten fans, numbed by 30 degree temperatures and freezing rain, it had been a long wait. Some of them had been on hand since 6:30 and the plane, originally scheduled to arrive at 7:55, didn't arrive until 9:05 because of adverse weather conditions.

Band on Hand
But these circumstances failed to dampen their zest. No sooner were the plane's engines shut off, and the St. Norbert college band, under Norbert Ecker's baton, struck up "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" as the door to the plane opened.

Big, square-jawed Forrest Gregg, only Sunday named to the Western division all-stars for the Jan. 17 pro bowl, was the first to alight, which set for another rousing ovation. He was quickly followed by Lew Carpenter, a hero in Sunday's climactic 36-14 rout of the San Francisco 49ers, ace blocker Jerry Kramer and rookie Ken Berry.

As they made their way to the stage through a host of back-slapping well-wishers, the band, again appropriately, swung into "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

Lombardi Emerges
The final notes were just dying out when broad-shouldered Vince Lombardi, the man behind the Packers' electrifying revival, emerged with Mrs. Lombardi on his arm. His appearance triggered a deafening cheer surpassing, if that were possible, all that had gone before.

By this time, most of the players were huddled together on the stage, shivering in light rain and trench coats more suited to the California

Robinson Is Sharp In Tuneup Fight

'Sugar' Ray Scores 2nd-Round Technical Knockout of Young

BY BOB GREEN
Boston — "I've got a lot of work to do to get back," "Sugar" Ray Robinson said, "but I'll be on time for the title fight."

Robinson, who has held one version or another of the world middleweight championship five times, had just finished his first fight in 20 months—a second-round technical knockout of hopeful Bob Young.

He belted Young off his feet five times in the second round Monday night, but was far from satisfied with his first performance since he regained the world title from Carmen Basilio March 25, 1958.

"I missed a lot, but I guess that 20 months makes a difference," he said.

"I'd planned to go four or five rounds, give the people a good show," the old champion said.

"But he hurt me in the first when he hit me in the face and that changed my attitude completely. I had to get it over with as fast as I could."

Flashing Combination

Robinson caught him with a flashing combination early in the second round and knocked him down for a six count with a left. Young went down three more times before Robinson put him away with a left hook.

Referee Eddie Bradley didn't even start a count on the last knockdown, just waved his hands and raised Robinson's hand. The time was 1:18.

"You can't take chances when you've got a guy that can hit like that," Robinson said. "I was lucky to get that hook over."

Robinson, now 38, appeared lean and hard at 161½ for the bout. He said he didn't get a chance to see Paul Pender, Brookline, Mass., fight in the co-feature.

Pender, the NBA's seventh-ranked challenger, is scheduled to fight Robinson for the Massachusetts-New York version of the middleweight championship in Boston Jan. 22.

Pender was obviously coasting in taking a 10-round decision from Gene Hamilton of New York. He opened up only in the last round, and belted Hamilton around with both hands.

Marquette's Pete Hall Signs With North '11'

Miami, Fla. — Marquette quarterback Pete Hall signed with the Northern squad Monday for the North-South college all-star football game here Dec. 26. Hall, who completed 120 passes for 1,589 yards last season, has been drafted by the New York Giants of the National Football league.

Tobin Doesn't Know Where He Stands

Rote Wants Another Chance After Finishing His Worst Season in 10

BY DAVE DILES

Detroit — Tobin Rote, the man they're blaming most for the collapse of the Detroit Lions, wants to take another crack at professional football.

The battle-scarred veteran has just survived the worst of 10 seasons, his third with the Lions.

The fewest number of completions, the smallest output of yards gained, a badly battered body, the criticism of his coach and the president of the club and the abuse of the fans—these are the things Rote has to show for his tenth professional campaign.

Plays Out Option
"I'd like to play at least another year," said Rote. "I'm convinced things couldn't go all wrong again."

Rote, the quarterback the Lions kept when they dealt off controversial Bobby Layne, doesn't know where he stands with the club. Officials of the club are just as mystified.

Rote never signed a contract for the 1959 season. He demanded a no-release clause and the front office wouldn't give it to him. So he played out his option. Now he is a

Beloit Tops Vike Varsity Swimmers

Lawrence Frosh Beat Bucs, 45-43, Set Record

The Beloit college varsity swimming team won all ten events Saturday in a 70-24 victory over Lawrence in the Buccaneer pool.

Lawrence Captain Pete Switzer placed second in two events—the 200-yard individual medley and the 200-yard breast stroke. Other Lawrence second placers were Marty Green, diving and Fred Sherman, 200-yard back stroke. Lawrence's third placers were: Jon Pearl, 50-yard free style; Tad Pinkerton, diving; Don Patterson, 100-yard free style; Sherman, 440-yard free style.

The Lawrence freshman team defeated the Beloit frosh, 45-43. Chris Vogel of Lawrence won the 200-yard individual medley in 2:28.6 to set a Beloit pool and Lawrence record. Vogel also copied the 100-yard free style in 1:57.1.

Lawrence's Jim Carey copied the 220-yard free style in 2:49.1 while the Vikings' Steve Meyer won the 200-yard breast stroke. The Viking freshman team of John Davidson, Jim Carey, Mike Franke and Chris Vogel set a team record of 4:11.3 in placing second in the 400-yard free style.

Other Viking second placers were: Mike Franke in the 50-yard free style, Jack Grenzbech in the 200-yard backstroke, and Bill Schier in the 440-yard free style.

Vince Lauds Determination Of Packers

"Coach of the Year" honors! A real perfectionist, Lombardi will settle for nothing but the division championship. Which is why he won't, for the record, call this a "good season."

He quickly explained during the air trip back to Green Bay: "This has been a satisfactory season and certainly was beyond my expectations. I had expected to win some games but I didn't expect to win seven."

4 Straight Wins
The Packers were bunched, as it were. They won the first three, lost five in a row and then finished off with four straight wins. To which Lombardi quipped:

"I guess we had better strengthen our middle!"

He figured that 5-game losing streak as "one of those things. Sometimes we played better football in those five losses than we did in some of the games we won. The best game we played all season was the loss to Baltimore in Milwaukee."

The Packers were behind, 21-3, at the half in that game and then outscored the champs, 21-7, in the second half, only to lose, 28-24. That game made quarterback Bart Starr who started the next four games and won all of them.

Lombardi pointed to Bart as one of the players who did "a great job." He also mentioned Boyd Dowler and Forrest Gregg and then praised the entire team because "it improved from week to week despite the losses."

Unit Pleased Him

Vince, who taught offense with the Giants, aimed his first rebuilding moves at the start of the season at the defense and the unit pleased him no end. "That defensive team was the salvation of our club. It pulled us together many times," he explained. The defensive club reflected the squad's determination.

The defense got a final long rest in 'Frisco Sunday when the offense held the ball for the last 8 1/2 minutes of the game. "I was supposed to go in for Nate but we (the defense) never got the ball," Jim Temp said.

The entire Packer coaching staff finished on the sidelines. "Red" Cochran and Norb Hecker, who work the phones in the pressbox, joined the fun on the sidelines with six minutes left in the game. Lombardi, Phil Bengtson and Bill Austin work the sidelines.

This was a wonderful experience for Bengtson, who served as a 49er assistant for eight seasons. It was the 49ers' first final-game loss in their history. The 49ers had won 13 straight home wind-ups.

At the start of the season, Bengtson said: "That's one record we'll break."

The Packers swept the 49er series, winning in Green Bay, 21-20; split with the Bears and Rams; beat Detroit twice; and lost two to champion Baltimore—among western division opposition. The Bays split with the two Eastern foes, losing to New York and blanketing Washington.

Briefs: Boyd Dowler and Hank Gremminger go into service for six months early in January. They'll be out in July—just in time for you know what. . . Ron Kramer developed ulcers last spring shortly before sweating out his return to civilian life from the Air Force. . . Fred Thurston will spend the off-season in Green Lake. "I'll be ice fishing most of the winter," "Fuzzy" says. . . Everybody made the United Airlines trip back to Green Bay but A. D. Williams and Tom Bettis. Williams lives in Santa Monica, a couple of blocks from where the team stayed, while Bettis and his family will spend the holidays at his wife's family home in Walnut Creek, California.

climes they had just left behind. NFL scoring champion Paul Hornung, one of the last to arrive on the platform, was accorded a particularly boisterous, whistling welcome.

Lombardi, formally introduced and presented with a key to the city by Mayor Roman P. Denissen after Packer blankets had been given to each of his players and coaching aides, expressed open admiration for the play of his first Green Bay team.

Great Determination
"I know from the size of this crowd that you must all be as proud of this football team as we all are who are connected with it," said the Packers' general manager-coach, obviously moved by the heartwarming welcome. "This was a team which had a great determination and went down to defeat the hard way."

"And every man on this squad made a great contribution to this season," he declared. "They never quit. They came back, and kept coming back, when things got tough in the middle of the season, and we finished up in a strong way."

"I also would like to say right now that I have the finest staff in the National Football league. Any accolades at all belong to them and not to me. Thank you ever so much."

When his turn came, Offensive Line Coach Bill Austin declared, "it certainly was a pleasure to work with the type of boys we had this year and I hope we can do as well next season."

Norb Hecker, the defensive backfield coach, said simply, "I think we had a real fine year — and it's nice to be home."

No Back Seat
"Red" Cochran, offensive backfield coach, smilingly admitted, "It's great to be with a winner — and great to be back home."

Defense Coach Phil Bengtson, asked to compare his unit with the New York Giants' league-leading array, asserted, "we don't have to take a back seat to anybody with our defensive unit. It stacks up with the best in the league."

In his brief speech, Mayor Denissen said, "I want to congratulate the Packers and particularly Coach Lombardi. They certainly made our job easy for us. They sold Green Bay all over the country."

Explosive ovations, as the players were presented with their blankets, went to Bart Starr, the rejuvenated quarterback who escorted the Packers to a third place tie in the Western division race. Hornung and the rookie pass catching marvel, Boyd Dowler.

Will Be Back

Hornung told the whistling crowd, "I'm just happy the season turned out the way it did—especially the last three or four weeks."

Asked if he would return next year, he produced another ovation with an unhesitating, "I sure will."

Old pro Emlien Tunnell, pausing with his blanket, wished "A Merry Christmas to everybody and I hope I'll be back for a championship next year."

There was, however, a note of sadness. Bill Howard, who

Boston Group Seeks NFL Berth For '61 Season

Lynnfield, Mass. — A group of New England business and professional men have made formal application to the National Football league for a Boston franchise in 1961.

Spokesman Leo "Buddy" Dowd, Nashua, N.H., made the announcement in a press conference Monday.

Dowd said that in the formal letter of application he had sent to NFL Commissioner Austin Gusek he stated he "wanted Boston to be in on the ground floor of the league's expansion program."

shared the emcee chores with Les Sturmer, called for a "real cheer for a great career."

He had reference to Bobby Dillon, the brilliant defensive back who has announced his retirement after eight Packer seasons. The crowd's enthusiastic response sent Dillon back to Temple, Tex., with cheers ringing in his ears.

Green Bay — Hail to the Green Bay Packers.

That, briefly and to the point, is the theme of statements by four former coaches of the team, a National Football league official and two coaches, city and county government leaders and business and labor organization officials.

All of the statements expressed directly or implied that the Packers this season—their best in total victories since 1944—are again a professional league power with spirit and the will to win their dominant qualities.

Among those who saw this year's 7-5 record as an indication of what the future holds was the man who coached the team to all of its six world championships.

Makes Me Happy
"It makes me feel good and I'm especially happy for the fans back there."

That was "Curly" Lambeau's reaction to the Packers' miracle season of 1959. He was reached via telephone in the Los Angeles coliseum press-box just before the Ram-Colt game Saturday afternoon.

"They have continued to play real hard all the way. The team and coaching staff should be complimented and I'm glad to have this opportunity to congratulate them."

Long Time
"That's good and more power to them. I hope they get into the championship next year. It's been a long time, but the fans at home really have stuck with them. They certainly are loyal."

Former Packer Coach Lisle Blackburn, now at Marquette university, commented that he is "extremely happy" with the success of the Packers this year.

Gene Ronzani, who headed the Packers from 1950 to 1953, was lavish in his praise for the work of Coach Lombardi and the members of his staff in "getting maximum ability from the players this season."

Ray (Scooter) McLean, who was Packer head coach last year and now is backfield coach for the Detroit Lions, credited much of the Packer success this season to the development of the defensive unit.

Gusek Pleased
Austin Gusek, acting commissioner of the National Football league:

"In anything I say, I am speaking for Bert (the late Bert Bell) as well as for myself. Bert didn't go too far through this season but he was most pleased with the new spirit in the Packers and, I presume, in Green Bay. We are most happy with the results of Vince's regime so far. He has done a marvelous job and deserves a great deal of credit, as do the boys on the team who have responded to his leadership. It is a fine thing, not only for Green Bay but for the entire National league. My congratulations to Vince, to the team and to Green Bay. It's just wonderful."

George Halas, Chicago Bears:

I want to especially congratulate Vince for rebuilding the team and for the way that his players have reacted this season, which I feel is primarily attributable to his management and coaching.

Other statements lavish in their praise of the Packers were made by Mayor Roman P. Denissen of Green Bay, Brown County Board Chairman James Francois, Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns, Pres. Louis Bellin of the Greater Green Bay Labor council, and Pres. John Evans of the Green Bay Association of Commerce.

Mickey McGuire Unloads 590 in Tavern Wheel

George Panke bowled a 625 threesome over the weekend to pace Fish Couples league bowlers at Hahn's and his Black Bass team. John Plach picked up game honors with his 249 for the Sunfish and finished with a 533. The Whitefish (14-7) dropped two lines and had their lead cut to one game.

Lorna Pekarske picked up women's honors on her scores of 191, 509. Mel DeBruin of Badger Oil (29-10) crashed a 595 in the ACA American wheel. His club leads the loop by three games.

Tavern league keggers at Hahn's were paced by Mickey McGuire and his 590 set. Des Schade earned game honors for his 234 and finished with a 568. Wettengels (29-13) leads the league by two games.

Achieve 588s Dave Brooker of City Desk and Don Frank of Ad Machines achieved 588s in the Post-Crescent Couples wheel at Hahn's.

The Linotypes (13-5) dropped three games and their league lead was cut to one game.

Heading the field in the Hahn's Navy league was Dee Tesmer, with a 534 for Louis' Supper club. One of her games was a 191. Grace Hansen achieved a 221 for Hansel Ornamental and finished with a 504. Monterey bar and Ave. (24-15) share first place.

John Plotz and Larry Grobe, with 578s for Twirl Company and L. N. Litho, respectively, headed Trinity Lutheran bowlers. Wichmanns (25-13) is 1½ games ahead in the race.

Greg Elsch of the Chickadees and "Baldy" Eggert of the Orioles were Bird Couple league honor bowlers. Elsch smacked a 552 trio and Eggert a 233 game. Betty Jagoditsch earned women's honors with her 189. The Martins (16-3) are two games in front of the field. Other honor scores:

Big 8 Quints Are Rough On Big Ten

By The Associated Press
Big Ten basketball teams have been doing well against non-conference opposition this season, but they could be doing much better if they had kept away from Big Eight competition.

Western conference teams have compiled a 24-14 record against outside forces, and six of these defeats have come in eight squabbles with Big Eight teams.

Iowa was dropped from the unbeaten ranks Monday night after dropping a 76-68 decision to Colorado in a double overtime. Wisconsin went up against Missouri and suffered its fourth loss in five games, 78-66.

Indiana Wins
Indiana managed to overcome Big Eight dominance by whipping Kansas State, 67-58. Illinois kept its slate clean by overcoming Marquette, 89-77. Both Indiana and Illinois had to come from behind to record their home-floor triumphs. Indiana trailed, 34-26, at halftime but came up with a 41-point spurge in the second half to gain its third triumph in four games. Walt Bellamy led the Hoosiers with 23 points.

Iowa and Colorado were tied, 61-all at the end of regulation play. Russ Lind put the Buffaloes ahead with two free throws and after Iowa tied it on a basket by Pete Shebler, the Hawkeyes gained control and froze the ball for one final shot. Mike Heitman missed and the game entered the overtime period in which the home team outscored the visitors, 13-5.

Detroit Deals Xavier of Ohio 1st Loss, 95-71

West Virginia and Indiana Keep Rolling Along

By The Associated Press
A kid blase Madison Square garden fans call the best sophomore they've seen since Oscar Robertson is pointing the University of Detroit toward one of its best basketball seasons ever.

The name is Dave DeBusschere — and it's a name to remember, whether you're a basketball or a baseball fan. Seems this 6-6, 220-pounder is also a spectacular right-handed pitcher and fears that some major league club will grab him is all that is keeping Detroit coach Bob Calihan from settling back to contemplate three wonderful years of basketball success.

He has him for this season at least, however, and coupled with another sophomore named Charlie North and a 5-9 sharpshooting peppercorn named Ray Albee, Dave is making the Detroit nickname of Titans a simple truism.

DeBusschere clicked for 22 points, Albee for 22 and North, a 6-5 springboard, for 29 Monday night as Detroit rolled to its fifth straight victory — 95-71 over previously unbeaten Xavier of Ohio.

Big Test
The Titans get their big test next Saturday at Indiana (3-1), which got 23 points from 6-10 Walt Bellamy in a 67-58 thumping Monday night of Kansas State, now 1-4.

West Virginia, fattening up for bigger things, battered VMI, 91-76, for its fifty-fourth straight Southern conference victory and stayed unbeaten along with Mississippi (6-0), Bradley, Texas and Missouri (4-0), and Maryland and Illinois (both 3-0), in other Monday features.

All-America Jerry West flipped in 27 points and helped conference scoring leader Joe Gedro, to a mere 11 as West Virginia gained a 6-0 season mark.

Erratic Kentucky got untracked, edging Kansas in overtime, 77-72, at Lawrence for a 3-2 season mark. Balanced scoring, topped by Ned Jennings' 27 points, overcame the 33-point shooting of 6-8 Kansas sophomore Wayne Hightower.

Notre Dame (5-1) snapped Nebraska's unbeaten string at three, 70-62, as Mike Graney hit for 19.

Davey Moore Decisions Morales

San Francisco —U— Featherweight champion Davey Moore gunned for bigger money fights today after handily outpointing Mexican scrapper Hilario Morales.

The 126-pound champ weighed 130½ for the 10-round non-title fight with Morales, a lightweight who tipped the scales at 134.

Moore crashed a right hand to the head that put the 20-year-old from Mexico City down in the first round for a mandatory count of eight, although Morales was up after about six seconds.

The Mexican weathered the storm and, battling with his back to the ropes most of the fight, kept intact his record of never having been stopped.

Moore hurt him with a left and right to the head in the sixth and again in the eighth with two left hook smashes to the midsection. Morales came back to beat Davey to the punch a few times in the ninth, but was hanging on by the tenth.

Morales, at 5-foot-9, held a 6-inch advantage in height. A disappointing crowd of 2,374 paid a gross gate of only $3,495.

Rounding out the good-sized starting lineup for Ripon will probably be 6-5 Bruce White and 6-0 Renny Greemun.

Jordan in Running
Coach Don Boya will likely start the same quint that has been getting the nod — Joe Lamers, George Gray, Jim Rasmussen, "Chuck" Knocke and Jim Schulze. However, Jim Jordan indicated by his play in the Knox game that he is still in the running for a starting berth.

Lawrence rooters hope for an increased point harvest from Rasmussen in this final pre-holiday game. Rasmussen, who set a new Lawrence season record and averaged 18.3 points last season, has been held to a 10.8 rate in the first five games. Playing at center, he has been getting fewer primary shots this season and thus far has been unable to get position for any rebound shooting of consequence.

Last season, Lawrence and Ripon split a pair — each winning big on its home court. The Redmen won their home game, 81-66. (Lindsey and Montonati had 17 and 13 points, respectively, while Schulze and Knocke led Lawrence with 18 and 17, respectively.

Lawrence won its home contest, 79-56, with Rasmussen and Knocke each scoring 22, and Schulze adding 17.

Fox Lutheran's Junior Varsity Wins, 56 to 29

The Fox Valley Lutheran junior varsity basketball team posted a 56-29 victory over the varsity team of Fort Atkinson Lutheran Saturday evening in the winners' gym.

Fort Atkinson is a new high school with just freshmen and sophomore classes.

Dave Schweppe and John Kosekmann counted 12 points for the victors and seven other players scored. The victory was seventh in eight starts for the Ron Roehl-coached Junior Foxes who hit 23 of their 50 field goal attempts.

Jim Brown Sets Record, Wins Rushing Crown

Philadelphia —U— Jimmy Brown of Cleveland won his third straight National Football league ground-gaining title Sunday and set a league record for rushing attempts. He has been in the league only three years.

The 228-pound fullback carried the ball 33 times against Philadelphia making his total for the season 290. Ed Price of the New York Giants set the old season record of 271 in 1951.

Brown scored twice and gained 152 yards in Cleveland's 28-21 victory. This gave him a season ground-gaining total of 1,329 yards. He did better last year when he rushed 1,527 yards on 257 carries.

Brown won the title in 1957, his rookie year, by carrying the ball 202 times for 942 yards.

The estate consisted of $89,262 in personal property, $31,655 in insurance, $12,056 in jointly-held property and $4,381 in miscellaneous property.

Administrative expenses took $4,941 from the estate. Federal taxes of $395 and miscellaneous debts, claims and other costs brought total expenses to $8,412. State taxes totaled $7,430.

School Board Roundup

School Budget Surplus Questions Get Airing

The problem of who controls school budget surpluses — the city or the school board — was raised again Monday night by the school board.

Board member Franklin C. Nehs, a lawyer, said he does not understand why, if the city has control over surpluses, as it says it has, the surpluses do not revert to the general fund. Instead, the surplus is carried over as a balance to the next year's budget.

If the money does not revert to the general fund, then it should be controlled by the school board, he maintained. Mrs. Myrl N. Davis said she believes the city has no control over money given to the school board because the school board is an arm of the state government, not the city government.

The questions came during the discussion of the November bill list. Director of Business Affairs William R. Knuth explained the business committee would look over the December bills before the end of the month so they could be paid out of this year's budget. Knuth said the procedure is regular for most businesses, which like to pay each year's bills out of the budget for that year.

Nehs also questioned whether this procedure is legal, and said he would investigate both questions.

Richmond Addition

The 4-room addition to Richmond school formally was accepted by the board and final payments to the contractors and architect were authorized. The board inspected the addition several weeks ago.

St. Pius X

St. Pius X school was given permission to use the Franklin school gymnasium one or two afternoons weekly this year, with St. Pius X paying a $1 a year for the privilege, plus any additional custodial costs incurred.

The Rev. John Van Deuren, assistant pastor, said he had checked with Principal James Murphy, who told him St. Pius children could use the gym between 3:30 and 5 p.m.

School Experiment Project Assured

Board Will Take Part in Program; Approves 3 Proposals

Appleton public schools will participate in the Wisconsin Improvement program, the board of education decided Monday night, but to what extent was not determined.

The program, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin and directed by Prof. John Guy Fowlkes, probably will involve nine school systems in Wisconsin undertaking various educational experiments.

The action came after Supt. of Schools John P. Mann submitted three proposals for the Appleton portion of the experiment. They involve mixed primary grouping, elementary principal internship and a Spanish language laboratory at Appleton High school.

Fowlkes' Choice
Mann was told he could present the three experiments to Dr. Fowlkes, who then will choose the one the program will support financially.

Appleton's financial involvement in any of the three experiments will not exceed $500, Mann predicted.

A fourth experiment, involving testing, is being outlined and will be submitted to the board for approval sometime in January, Mann said. It is gets board approval, it also will be submitted to Dr. Fowlkes.

Board members found it easy to understand the internship and language laboratory experiments, but were somewhat confused about the mechanics of mixed primary grouping.

Internship Program
The internship program would give teachers with administrative ability a chance to get involved in administration of elementary schools, training them for principals' positions, the proposal said. The program also might take in other Fox Cities area high schools and already has been approved by the State Elementary Principals' association. It would cost the city nothing. The language experiment would place first-year students into large combined classes for classroom instruction, but divide the large class into small 10-student classes for conversational training. The conversational training would involve using tape recorders to play back conversations recorded by the students. One tape recording booth already exists at Appleton High, and the school would need two more 3-unit booths, with 6-student total capacity. The cost to the school system would be about $500.

Mixed Grouping
Mann explained mixed primary grouping as ability grouping without age barriers. The experiment he envisions, he said, would put primary-age children of equal intellectual ability in the same classroom, giving, for example, one room with eight 6-year-olds, eight 7-year-olds and eight 8-year-olds.

Mann said, however, there would be a continuous progress plan even in these rooms, guaranteeing that despite nearly equal ability, each student would work ahead as fast as possible. This plan is followed in the elementary classrooms today, but the students still are placed in a room according to age.

Board members were confused by the mechanics of the program. Mrs. Myrl N. Davis said, "I thought we had been told it was extremely important to group children chronologically. Now we're going to do away with chronological grouping."

Previous Assumption
Mann replied it had been assumed chronological grouping was preferred and the experiment would determine whether the assumption is correct.

Dr. A. Neil McLeod, himself a teacher, noted that he graduated from just such a grade school — "only there were eight grades and one room." He also warned that such an experiment would require extremely rigid controls so students' progress could be measured compared to the progress of students not in the program.

Dr. McLeod did not believe the mixed grouping program could get underway until next September, although Mann said university officials would like the project to start at the beginning of the second semester.

Meeting Cancelled

The board will not meet Dec. 28, its regular day, it was decided. The next meeting will be Jan. 11, 1960.

Union Requests

A letter from Local 224 of the Building Service Employees union requesting a 5 per cent pay increase and several fringe benefits was referred to the business committee by President Krueger.

Krueger said he had misplaced the letter which was dated Oct. 16—too late to have been included in the 1960 budget requests.

The employees asked the schools to pay one-half their Blue Cross payments; for a 3-week vacation after 10 years service; for minimum call back wage of two hours; for $2-an-hour call back pay; for $2.50-an-hour holiday pay; and for the 5 per cent increase.

School Board Cuts $43,443 From Budget

Amount Accidentally Totals Money Trimmed by Council

School projects totaling exactly $43,443.17 were cut from the 1960 school budget by the school board Monday night, to compensate — coincidentally — for the $43,443.17 trimmed from the school budget by the city council.

The board set up a priority system, recommended by Director of Business Affairs William R. Knuth, guaranteeing that some projects would go ahead this year, but eliminating others until funds are available.

Knuth actually submitted cuts totaling $63,304.22 for board consideration, but called some of them "urgent" needs and recommended they not be dropped. He also set up first, second and third priorities on other projects and recommended complete elimination of several because of information received since the budget was approved by the board.

"Urgent," Not "Unnecessary" Urgent projects that will be carried out include several that were labeled "unnecessary" in a report by the Appleton Taxpayers association. They are microfilming attendance records, $1,000; blacktopping the high school driveway and filling in large holes, $2,700; repairing AHS auditorium seats, $550; deferring $4,675 in other seat repairs; Franklin school awnings, $7,200; tiling Morgan school shower walls, $500; installing two kindergarten toilets at Jackson school, $1,000; and miscellaneous teaching supplies, $1,500.

Other projects approved by the school board include several playground and play equipment changes, emergency lighting projects at several elementary and junior high schools and several toilet facility installations at grade schools.

Projects trimmed from the budget include rental value and replacement value insurance policies $3,100; musical instrument repairs, $1,750; Wilson school art room equipment, $1,800; Morgan school stair treads, $1,000; McKinley school girls' shower room, $2,000; Lincoln, Jefferson and Morgan schools blacktopping, $10,775; Jefferson school coal feed, $1,600; several emergency lighting projects; and two pianos, $1,140. Many other smaller items also were eliminated.

Administration Unit Setup Discussed in State Legislature

Madison —(P)— Legislative circles heard talk today about changing the setup of the young state department of administration.

The talk came from Republicans, along with remarks that the agency the legislature created at Gov. Gaylord Nelson's request has acquired too much power.

Sens. Robert Travis (R-Platteville), majority party floorleader and Reuben La Fave (R-Oconto) led in voicing criticism of the agency that was formed by merging La Fave said the new unit gave too much authority to Joe E. Nussbaum, head of the department appointed to his job by Gov. Nelson.

Travis said plans call for introduction of legislation to repeal the law creating the agency.

Before taking over his job, Nussbaum was Nelson's financial adviser. His appointment still lacks senate confirmation.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Our dentist wants to X-ray our five-year-old son's teeth. My sister-in-law tells me a doctor friend of hers doesn't believe that children should be X-rayed except by a specialist in this line of work. He says leukemia has been linked to X-rays given to children by not properly trained personnel. What is your opinion?" — Mrs. P.K."

On the basis of the most modern evidence available, X-rays should not be used especially on children, unless important evidence is expected.

If the information is necessary, however, the X-rays should be taken without further question.

"Rays Cumulative"

The absorption of X-rays is cumulative, at least to some extent. On the other hand, the permissible and safe limit is still much greater than the average individual needs in the course of a lifetime.

Don't have X-ray exposure if you don't need it, don't fear it if you do. Certainly the most important reason for that, in later life, you may be in drastic need of some, and you want to keep as much reserve capacity as you can, just in case.

I think the following facts will be welcome, too. The manufacturers of X-ray equipment naturally are fully aware of what is being discovered, and what the needs are.

Modern equipment reduces by 80 per cent the amount of radiation which once was required to produce an X-ray. Further, the somewhat older

Depot Stays At Junction, PSC Decides

Notes Railroad Agreed to Make Some Improvements

Madison —(P)— The public service commission dismissed Monday a complaint against the action of the North Western Railway in moving its passenger depot from the downtown area.

The railway moved the depot to Appleton Junction in 1958, contending the railway was subject to prosecution because its trains blocked crossings at the old location.

Residents complained the new location did not provide adequate service.

The PSC said the railway had agreed to improve the depot building and pave a parking lot for customers. The location of the depot is within the railroad's discretion, provided reasonably adequate service is maintained, the commission said.

The decision was made on testimony given at three hearings at the Appleton city hall. Urban Van Susteren, Appleton attorney, instituted the hearings and arranged much of the testimony to have the depot moved.

Costs for the hearings are borne by the railroad.

X-Ray Should be Used Only When Needed, Molner States

equipment can be modernized with filters and cones which focus the X-rays on the spot where they are needed, and prevent useless rays from spattering where they do no good.

Depends on Need

When children are being X-rayed, there is no question but that modern (or modernized) equipment should be used. If such is being employed, then (were my own children involved) I would feel assured that I was doing the right thing by going ahead with the X-rays.

For a somewhat comparable example, put it this way. There are times when a child needs a sedative drug. I would never give one unless it was clearly needed, however, I would not hesitate when it is needed.

Keeping either drugs or X-rays to the minimum amount necessary is a safe rule.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Could you give me the name and address of the nearest unwed mothers' home in my vicinity? I have no close relatives and the father of the child will not claim it." — X.Y."

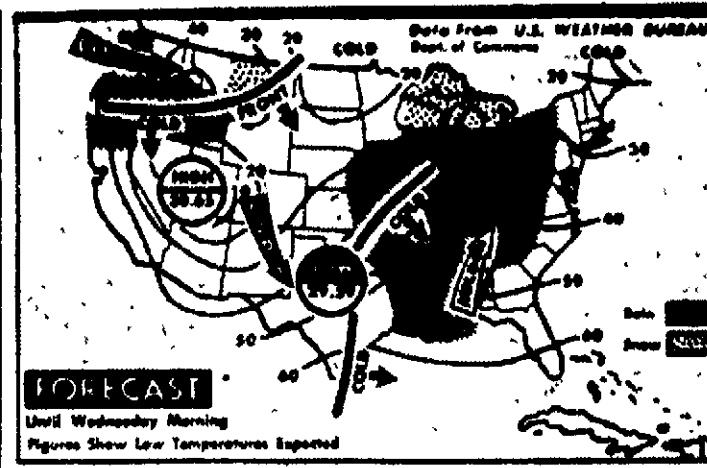

I changed your initials — but thank you for trusting me by signing your name.

To give an answer that will fit not only your problem but similar ones in other cities, I'll reply this way: family service agencies, Community Fund headquarters, most churches (whether you belong to their faith or not) either can give you advice or can tell you where you can get it at once. Other agencies that can help are: city health department; social service department of a hospital, or any county medical society. A telephone call will get you started in the right direction.

Are you a victim of "vitamin starvation?" To make sure that your diet always contains proper food, write to me in care of this newspaper for my pamphlet, "Vitamins — Alphabet of Health," enclosing a long-self-addressed stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling. (Copyright, 1959)

Change in Sight From Cloudy Sky

About six-tenths of an inch of rain fell in the Fox Cities Monday night and added more gloom to already cloudy skies and dreary days.

But a change is in sight. The weatherman calls for cooler Wednesday, with winds picking up Thursday. The mercury also will dip Thursday.

While Christmas shoppers trudge through dampened yuletide decorations in the Fox Cities, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma are pounded by a pre-winter snowstorm.

Blizzard conditions were reported in some areas as the coldest weather of the season hit many sections. It was chilly in Phoenix this morning — around 40 above. Snow was reported as far south as Las Cruces, near the Mexican border.

Opportunity

If you are not model conscious, you now have an unusual opportunity to own a brand new car - Chevrolet or Oldsmobile - at great savings.

You see, every year at model changing time, dealers try to estimate their requirements. Some years, we carry over and some years we are short. This year we have about 100 new 1959 Chevrolet and Oldsmobiles left.

These will be sacrificed immediately at some price to make room for the 1960 Chevrolet, Oldsmobile & Corvair.

So, here's your opportunity to save on a brand new car, with the famous GUSTMAN new car guarantee. We have all models, including station wagons, sedans, hardtops, convertibles, demonstrators and officials' cars... all to be sacrificed at bargain prices.

Workshop Gets Go Ahead From Appeals Board

Construction Will Continue Despite Lack of Facilities

Work on the Fox Valley Sheltered Workshop will continue. The board of building appeals Monday night voted unanimously to reissue the workshop's building permit. One member was absent, but board members said he had indicated he was in favor of allowing construction. The permit had been revoked Dec. 1 by Building Inspector Walter Bogan because there were no sewer or water facilities at the building site on S. Perkins street. Bogan said he was not aware facilities did not exist, tend to the workshop land on Appleton's industrial park when he issued the permit. L. C. Smith, Kaukauna, workshop president, told the board he had the mayor's assurance that one of the first projects undertaken in the spring would be extension of sewer and water facilities to the shop. "If we had to wait until the facilities were in, we wouldn't have a building until September," Smith said. He explained the lease on the present workshop on N. Douglas street expires Feb. 28. The board estimated about one city block of sewer and water mains would be needed to connect the workshop to present mains on S. Perkins street. Construction on the workshop has gone on despite revocation of the permit because, according to Smith, segments of the building that had been completed before the permit was revoked had to be protected from frost damage. The council already has approved extension of sewer and water mains to the workshop and the shop plans have been approved by the street and sanitation committee.

Pikerama Dates Set

Jan. 16 and 17, 4-H Sponsored Fishing Contest on Lake

Chilton — Jan. 16 and 17 have been selected as the dates of the fourth annual 4-H Lake Winnebago Pikerama. Extremely cold weather and snow last year held the number of participants down to slightly more than 300. Two years ago more than 650 ice fishing enthusiasts took part in the event. The pikerama record was set when Leonard Joas, Hilbert, hooked an 84-pound walleye. Last year a 5-pound 11-ounce walleye landed by Louis Rendi, Manitowoc, took the top prize. The committee believes with favorable weather and good fishing, the event could attract 1,000 persons. Committeemen Ray Ecker, Russell Gasch and Al Daun

Woman Hurt In 2-Car Road Crash

Chilton — A 2-car collision at Highways 10 and 114 west of Sherwood Sunday noon, involved cars driven by William N. Klein, 55, route 2, Sheboygan Falls, and Clarence J. DeBruin, 37, of 1104 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna. Police said the Klein car was westbound on Highway 114 and the driver admitted going through the stop sign. He said he failed to notice it and collided with the DeBruin car which was traveling east. Mrs. Wilbur Klein, 57, was taken to Calumet Memorial hospital for treatment of a knee injury. are working out final details and a list of prizes awarded for the largest walleye or sand pike. The Pikerama is a project of the county 4-H leader's council to raise funds for a youth building.

Paper Vital Part of Concrete Industry

Fragile Substance Essential Part Of New Highway Structure Forms

It may not seem sensible, but paper plays an important part in modern concrete construction work. And Fox Cities companies make a variety of products extensively used to form, cure and mix concrete. The Highway 41 expressway second around Neenah, for example, is carried over intersecting roads on pillars formed by paper tubes manufactured by Appleton Manufacturing company. The pillars, reinforced with steel rods, were poured inside a tube which was later stripped off, leaving a relatively smooth surface. The tubes, made in diameters from three to 48 inches, can be obtained in any length that can be hauled on common carriers and can be cut to correct lengths on the job. Voids, Too The tubes, in a slightly different form, can be used for the opposite effect, keeping the concrete out. The use for ducts in concrete floors or walls provides for heating pipes, utility lines and similar lines. The tubes range in diameter from just over two inches up to 28 inches. In many modern 1-story, slab-type ranch homes, heat-concrete is protected during the curing period by a Thimany Pulp and Paper company product. This curing paper, which is made in single-use and re-use forms, is put over freshly-laid concrete and seals the moisture in for about four days. It is used rather than the white material ordinarily sprayed over the concrete surface. The paper, which is fairly heavy, is black and for the re-use form has a waterproof coating.

Byproduct Use Kimberly - Clark corporation's products have been used during the winter construction season as insulating protection for concrete work. The overpasses around Neenah, many of them poured during the winter, were protected by this type of paper. A byproduct of Marathon division of American Can company called Maracon is a concrete additive which cuts down as much as 20 per cent on the amount of water added to concrete and ups its strength as much as 40 per cent.

The material minimizes shrinkage in concrete before and after hardening because of lower water content and more complete hydration of cement (combining with water) decreases the permeability and increases the density and durability. Maracon is a derivative of sulphite liquor and is added to concrete at the point of mixing on the job.

Oneida St. Bridge Steel Work Starts

Towers supporting the weighted end of the Oneida street bridge will be put into place beginning next week, Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski reports. The beams, called trunnion towers, will be lowered into the counterweight pit by a crane. Between Christmas and New Years day, the two main girders may be erected, Duszynski said.

Restaurant Owner Leaves Estate of $73,023 to Widow

Harry Notaras, Appleton restaurant operator who died at 60 last Feb. 25, left a $73,023 estate, most of it to his widow, Doretta, 121 E. Roosevelt street, a final accounting filed with County Judge Stanley A. Staidl indicates. Notaras will left a specific bequest of $1,000 and $50 monthly, through Appleton property income, to his mother, who lives in Trillogranika, Kyrithia, Greece. The remainder of the estate was left the widow. The estate consisted of $52,000 in real estate, $5,554 in personal property and $15,469 in jointly-held property. Total administration expenses, debts and claims were $1,941, state taxes totaled $3,126 and there was no federal tax.
